Dear Members of LCC,

Thank you for being one of 2,049 members of LCC to complete the LCC National Survey. Here are the results of the survey including almost 20,000 comments filling nearly 900 pages.

We invite you to visit the LCC website as often as you wish to review the results and to read the comments.

The primary purpose of sharing this important material with you is to assist you in preparation for the church-wide discussions taking place in your District, circuit, or congregation from Easter to June 30.

The CCMS is not making any recommendations along with this information. Instead, your discussion facilitator will ask for more input and for your reaction to what the survey results seem to be suggesting for various aspects of a new structure for LCC.

In the Lord's service,

The Commission on Constitutional Matters and Structure (CCMS)

Things to Know About this Survey Presentation

Basic Assumptions of the LCC National Survey

- 1. Discussing LCC doctrine and practice are not part of this survey. Only structure and process are discussed.
- 2. The structure and processes within Districts and the Synod are the subject of this survey, not the structures and processes in congregations.
- 3. Members direct resources to the Synod, Districts, Seminaries, LCC Financial services, Auxiliaries, and LSOs to provide eight services to the members of LCC.

Basic Assumptions of the LCC National Survey

4. All data, observations, and comments from the survey will be available to all members of LCC on the Synod's website in the week following Easter.

5. The number of responses and the volume of comments provide a valid expression of the members of LCC views regarding the LCC structures and processes discussed in the survey.

6. The data and comments and the national discussions that follow will guide, not direct, the CCMS and LCC Board of Directors in making recommendations to the LCC Convention in October 2017.

Some Statistics About the Survey Responses

At the end of March 9, 2016, 2,049 people entered the survey:

- 1,729 lay persons
- 45 of 97 active (43) and inactive (54) deacons (46%)
- 164 of 224 pastors serving congregations (73%)
- 111 of 191 pastors not serving congregations (58%)
- The ratio of lay persons to church workers is 5.4 to 1.

1,711 (84%) were completed online. 338 (16%) were completed on paper.

Hundreds of negatively critical comments are included. Forty comments violating the Eighth Commandment were removed from view (two tenths of one percent of the total).

Members made 19,247 comments filling 860 pages.

Understanding the Vertical Bar Graphs

9. Our congregation values the parish services, e.g. staff, parish council, that our District provides. (All Responses)

Dark green means “strongly agree”. Dark red means “strongly disagree”. The number above the green and red bars is the total percentage of both sections on that vertical bar.

Many lay persons expressed an inability to understand or to know how to respond to some statements. Hence, the significant “neither agree nor disagree” (yellow) and “no opinion” (blue) responses.

While the number of yellow and blue responses is highest from lay persons (the largest group), the percentage of statements with highest “neither” and “no opinion” responses from the lay persons and church workers vary among members. They are distributed among the 60 statements as follows: lay persons – 30 and 42 statements, deacons – 7 and 11, pastors serving congregations 7 and 4, and pastors not serving congregations – 16 and 3.

Observations

Observations in this presentation are intended to call attention to specific points of significance in the results of individual statements.

Observations are based on facts, most of them from facts in this presentation and some facts from surveymonkey.com that are not presented here in the form of graphs.

Observations are not simply perceptions or opinions.

Introduction

Demographic Profiles and Feedback on the Survey

Seven demographic profiles were included in the survey and are presented here.

The Preamble to the survey introduced two concepts related to the mission and ministry of LCC:

- 1. The mission and ministry of LCC is delivered to its members and others through eight services based on the Ten Objectives in the LCC Constitution shown on the next slides.
- 2. The mission and ministry of LCC is delivered by a synodical family of 25 legally incorporated organizations, including the Synod, 3 Districts, 2 Seminaries, LCC Financial Ministries, 4 Auxiliaries, 13 Listed Service Organizations, and CLWR.

Respondents were asked about their comfort level of thinking of the mission and ministry of LCC in this way.

At the end of the survey, those who completed the survey were asked to provide feedback on the survey.

Article III Objectives

Demographic Profiles and Feedback on the Survey

Observation

The demographic graphs and all the graphs of survey statements are based on the 2,049 responses received by midnight on March 9, 2016.

Observation

84% of the respondents are 46 years old and older and have been members of an LCC congregation for more than 20 years. Only 2.6% of participating members are 25 years old or younger.

Observation

The two demographic profiles that are most significant are Districts and Membership (lay persons, deacons, and the two groups of pastors). Some statements reflect these demographics.

Observation

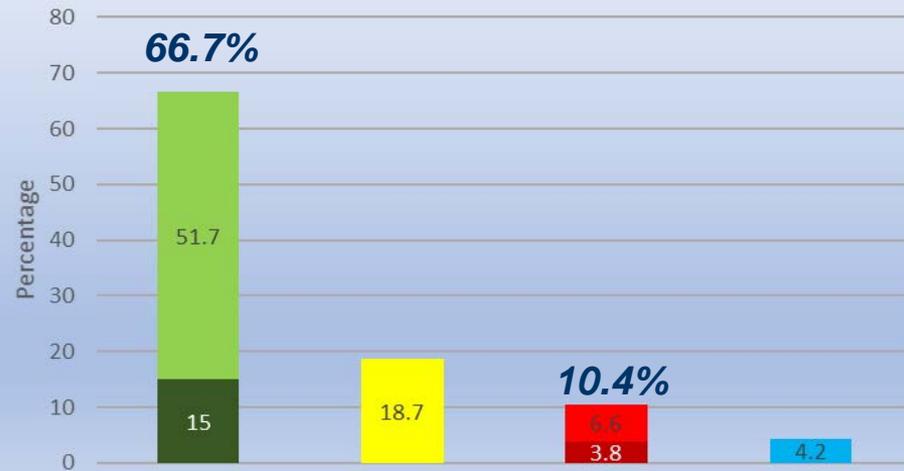

The results at the end of the survey were very similar to mid-survey in all of the survey statements, indicating consistency in results as the number of responses grows.

Survey Feedback

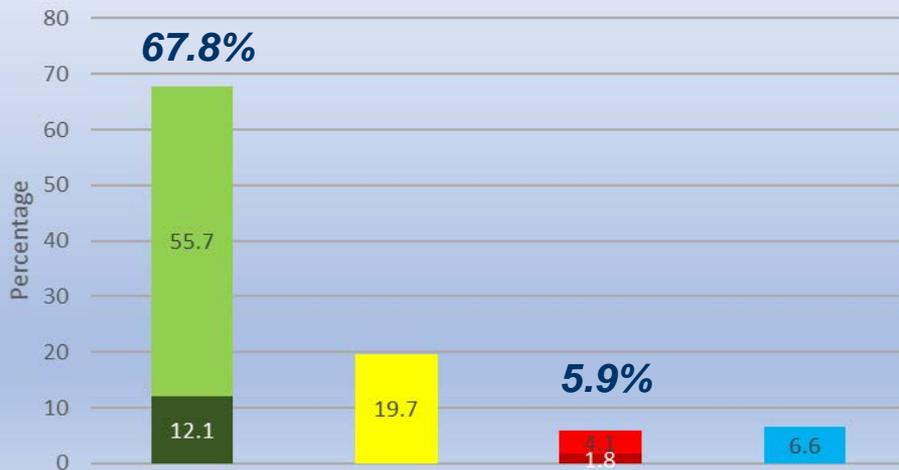

Observation

Members express a high degree of confidence that the survey will be helpful in guiding the restructuring process. The numbers of members that agree to these statements are among the highest in the survey.

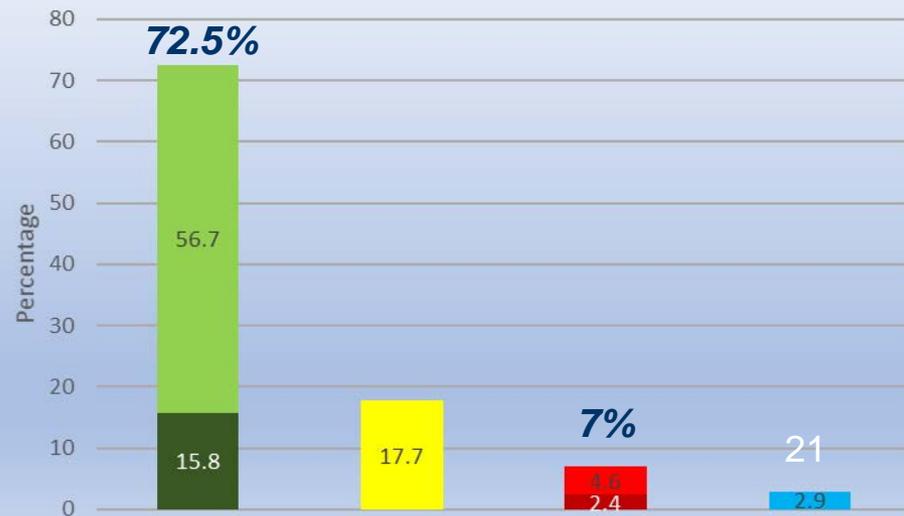

56. This survey is a helpful part in the process of restructuring LCC.
(LCC - All Responses)

57. The thoughts and feelings that I share in my responses to this survey and also in my comments will be taken seriously. (LCC)

58. Completing this survey was worth my time.

2014 ALLOCATION OF LCC RESOURCES BY SERVICES

Total
$9,206,000 24

LCC Service #1 – Ecclesiastical Supervision

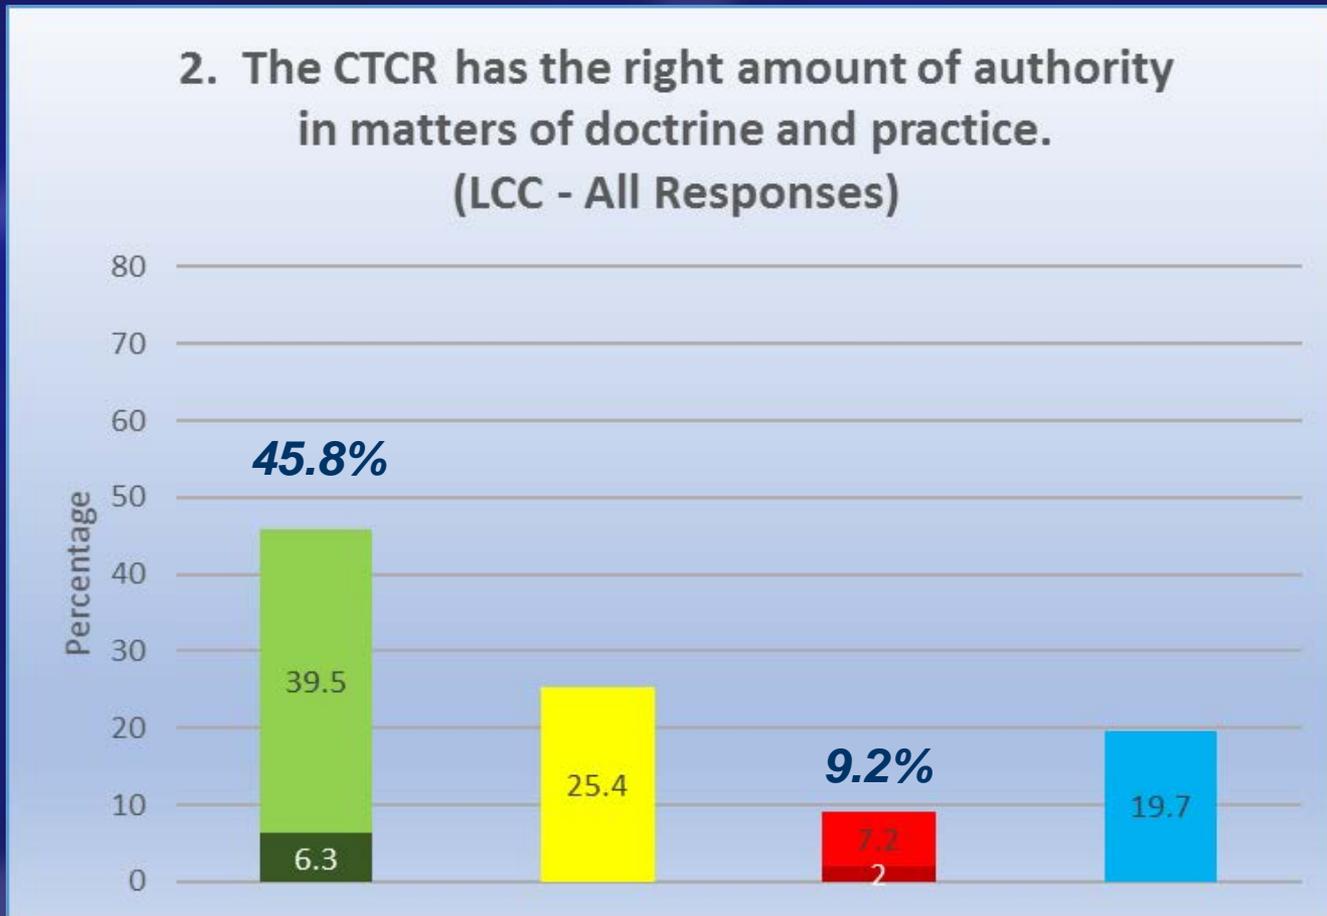

Observation

Considered by some as the most important service that LCC offers its members, there is strong support for the current effectiveness of Ecclesiastical Supervision.

LCC Service #1 – CTCR Authority

2. The CTCR has the right amount of authority in matters of doctrine and practice.
(LCC - All Responses)

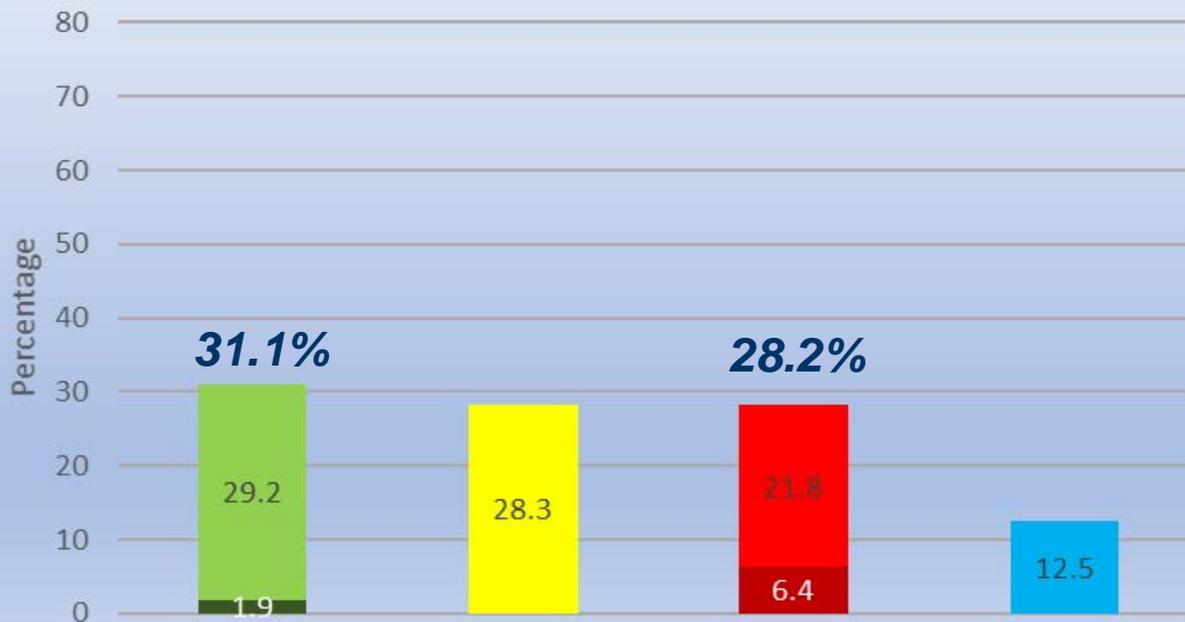

Observation

The members who are acquainted with the level of authority delegated to the CTCR agree that it is appropriate. While there is uncertainty and a lack of opinion, there is little disagreement.

LCC Service #1 – Inter-church Relationships

8. LCC's efforts in inter-church relationships meet the needs of our congregations.
(LCC - All Responses)

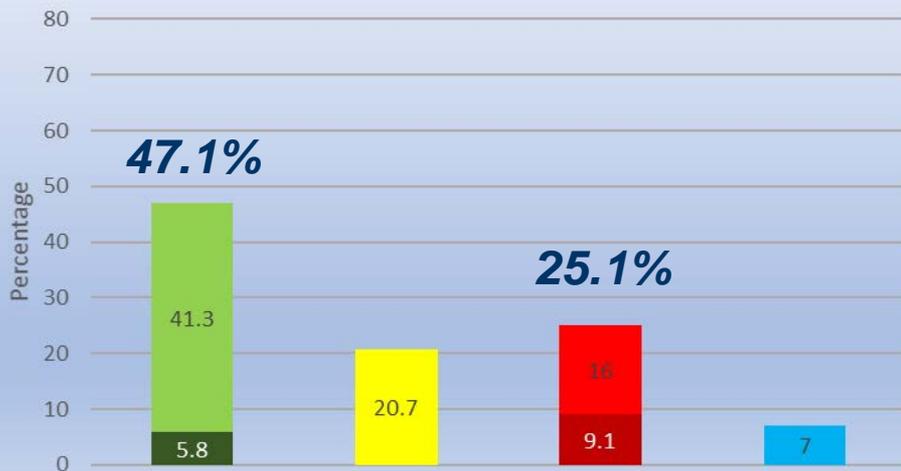

Observation

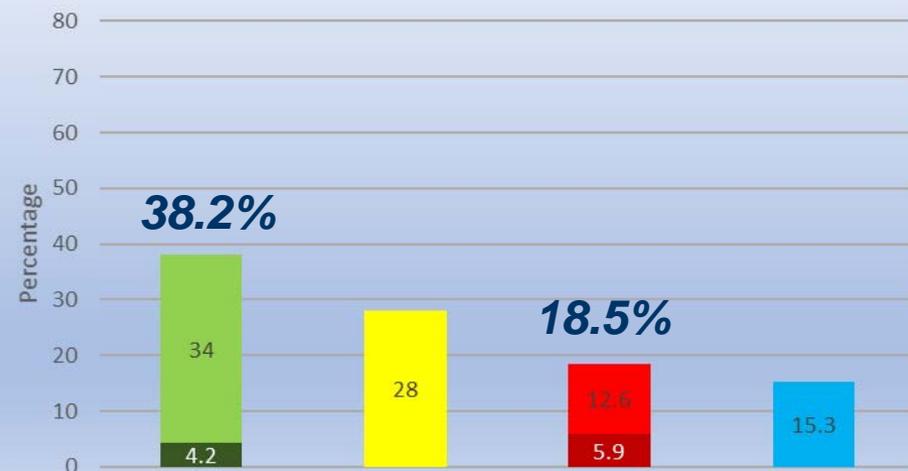

The confusion about the meaning of “inter-church”, as seen in the comments, renders the results of this statement of little value.

LCC Service #2 – Building Community Health of Current Relationships

18. The relationship between my congregation and my District is healthy.
(LCC - All Responses)

44. The relationship between my District and the Synod is healthy.
(LCC - All Responses)

Observation

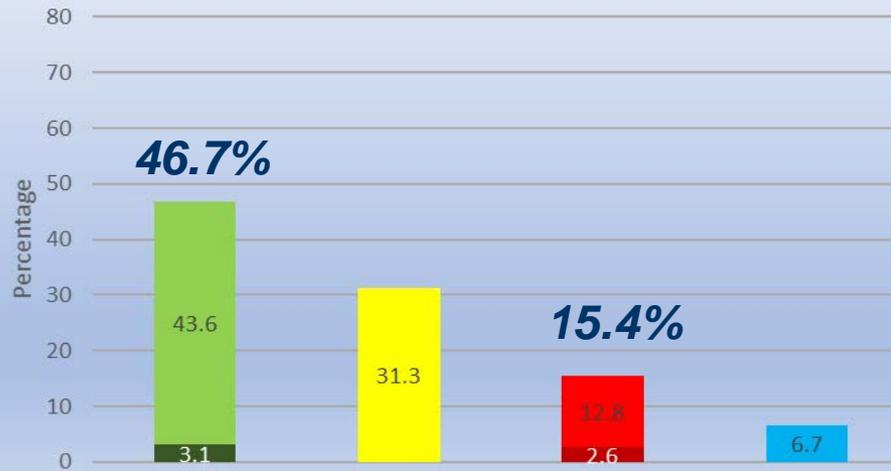

Overall, less than 50% of the respondents agree that either of these two relationships are healthy.

Observation

The variance by District, shown on the next two slides, indicates that the perceptions within the East District are the most positive and the perceptions in the ABC District are the most negative.

LCC Service #2 – Building Community – Health of Relationships

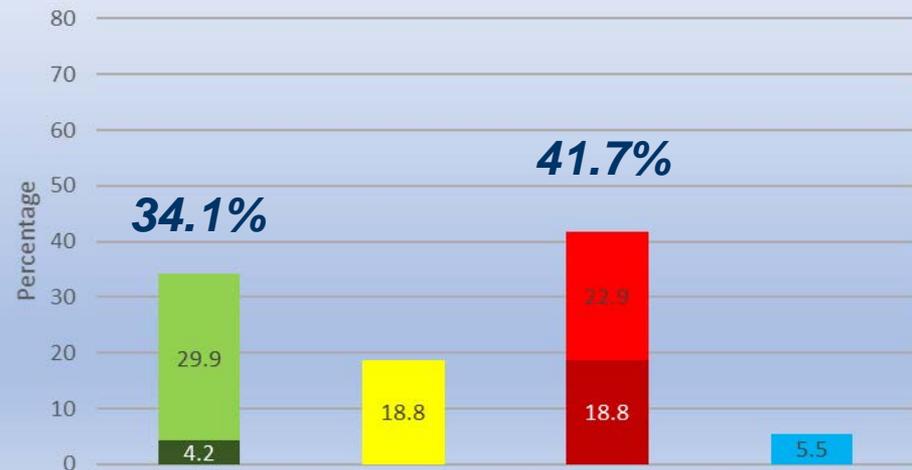

18. The relationship between my congregation and my District is healthy.
(Central District)

18. The relationship between my congregation and my District is healthy.

(ABC District)

LCC Service #2 – Building Community Through Communication

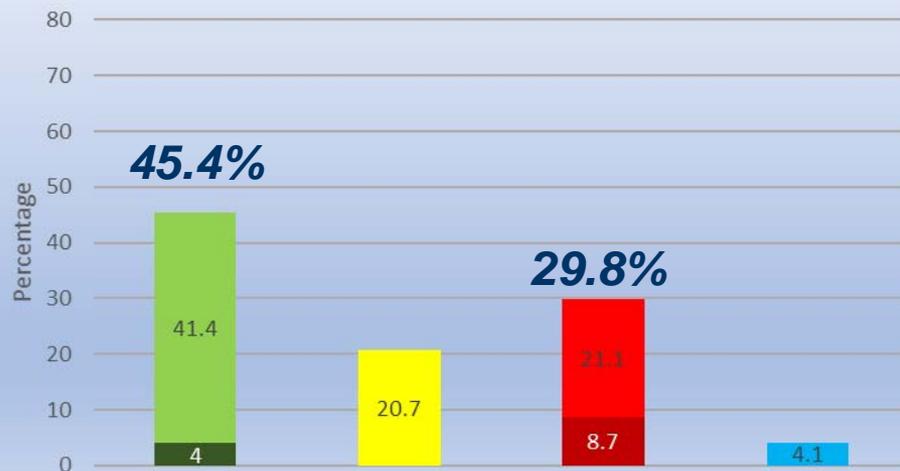

Observation

Overall, more than half of LCC members would like more information from both Districts and the Synod.

11. I receive the right amount of information from the Synod.
(LCC - All Responses)

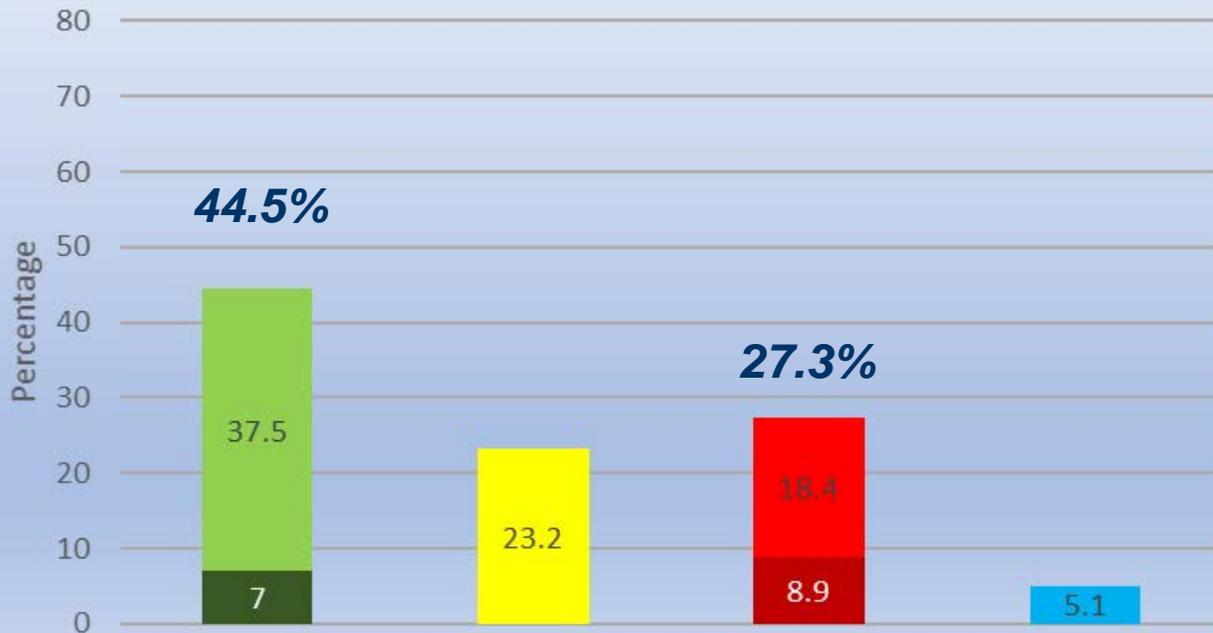

12. I receive the right amount of information from my District.
(LCC - All Responses)

District Info	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	No Opinion

(Lay Persons)

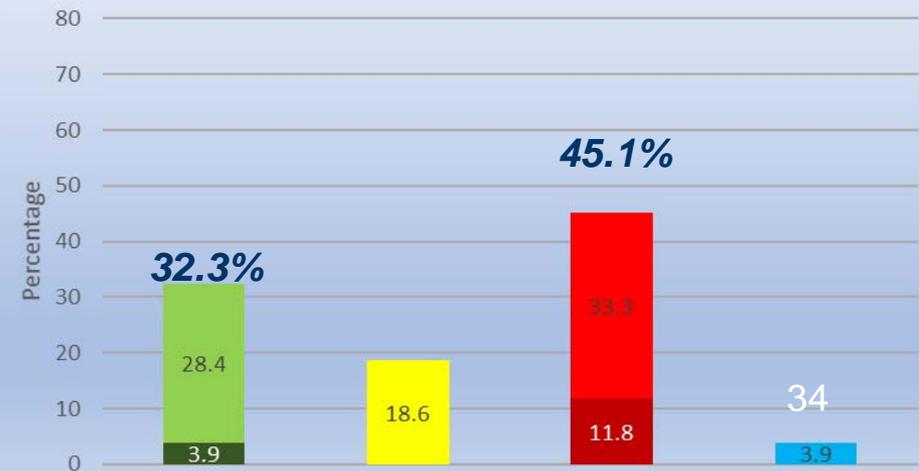

3. Pastors and Deacons receive the appropriate quality of spiritual care from LCC.
(Deacons)

3. Pastors and Deacons receive the appropriate quality of spiritual care from LCC.
(Pastors Serving Congregations/Parishes)

3. Pastors and Deacons receive the appropriate quality of spiritual care from LCC.
(Pastors Not Serving Congregations/Parishes)

LCC Service # 3 – Care for Members – Pastors and Deacons Observations

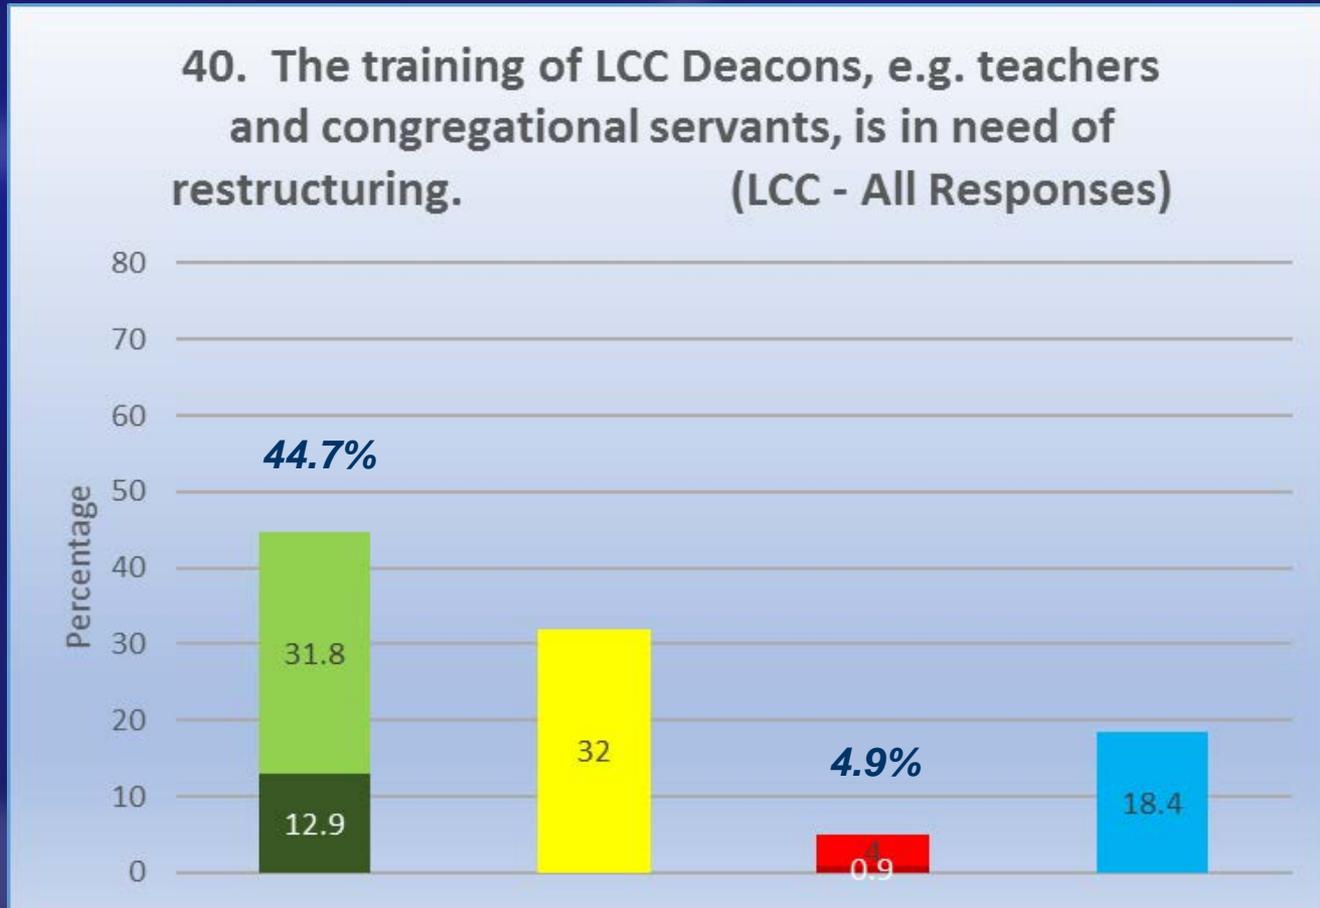

Observation – Care for Congregations

The responses to this statement suggests a rather unenthusiastic perception of the value of parish services the Districts provide. The table demonstrates some variance among Districts.

Observation – Care for Pastors and Deacons

Reviewing this statement by the demographics of lay persons, deacons, pastor serving congregations, and pastors not serving congregations we observe significant differences in the perceptions of spiritual care received by lay persons and church workers. The agreement is similar, but disagreement is different.

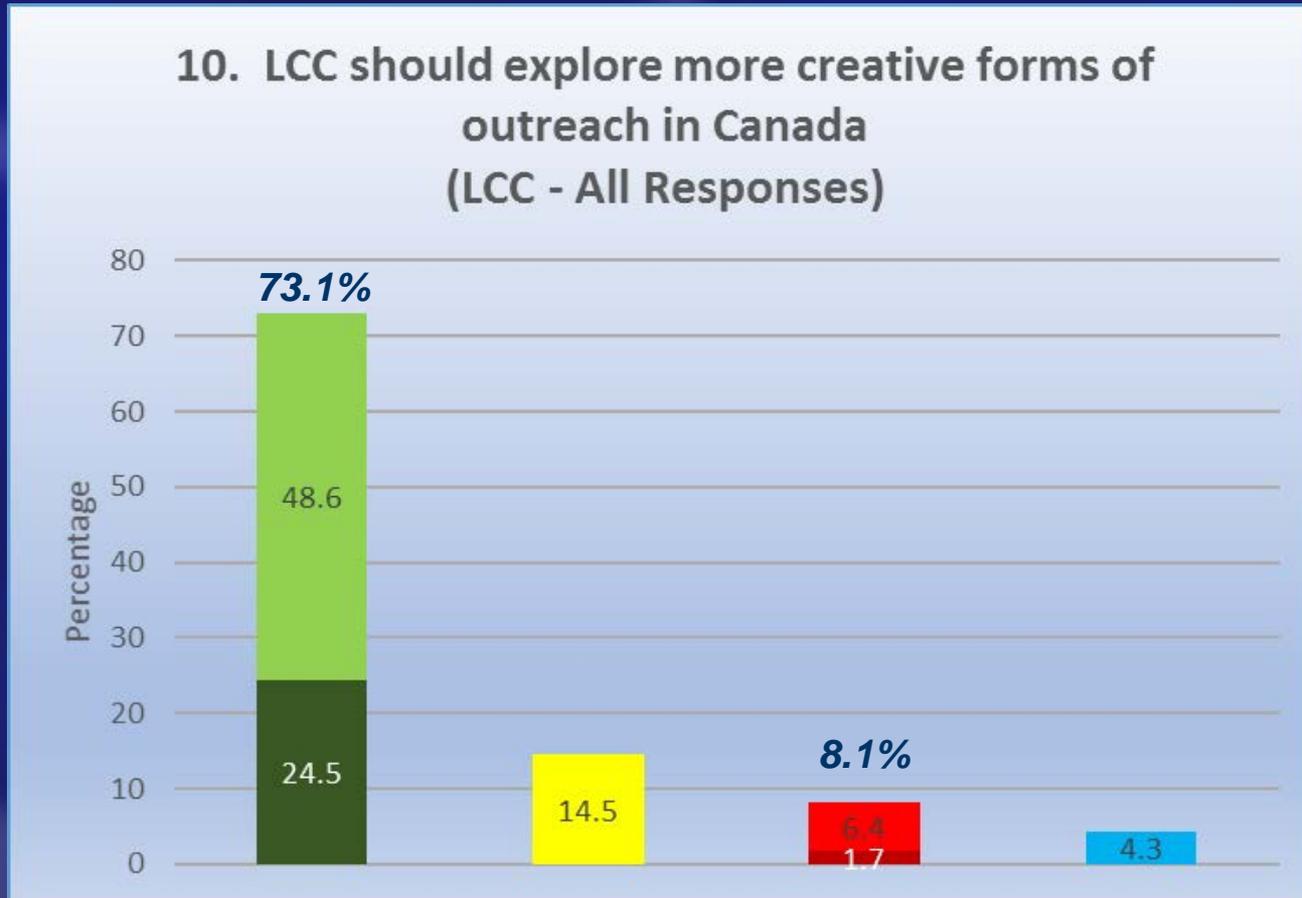

LCC Service # 4 – Training of Church Workers

Observation

Nearly all of the members who do have a point of view agree that some restructuring of the training of Deacons is necessary.

LCC Service # 5 – Canadian Missions

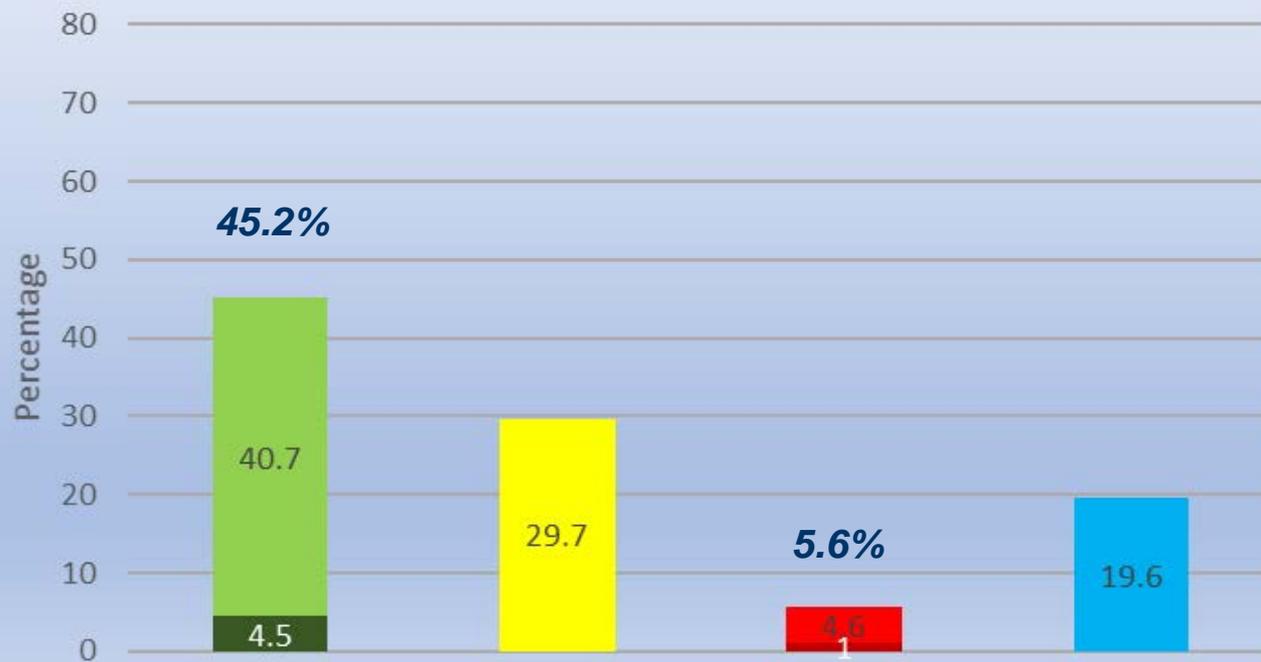

Observation

There is exceptionally strong agreement for exploring more creative forms of outreach in Canada.

LCC Service # 7 – Social Ministry

55. The relationship between LCC and Canadian Lutheran World Relief is healthy.
(LCC - All Responses)

Observation

The very high (49.3%) incidence of “neither agree nor disagree” and “no opinion” with regard to LCC’s relationship with CLWR indicates a need for more information exchange between CLWR and LCC. ³⁸

LCC Service #8 – Financial Services Pension and Benefits Plan

4. The Church Workers Pension and Benefits Plan is an important service to the Church.
(LCC - All Responses)

Observation

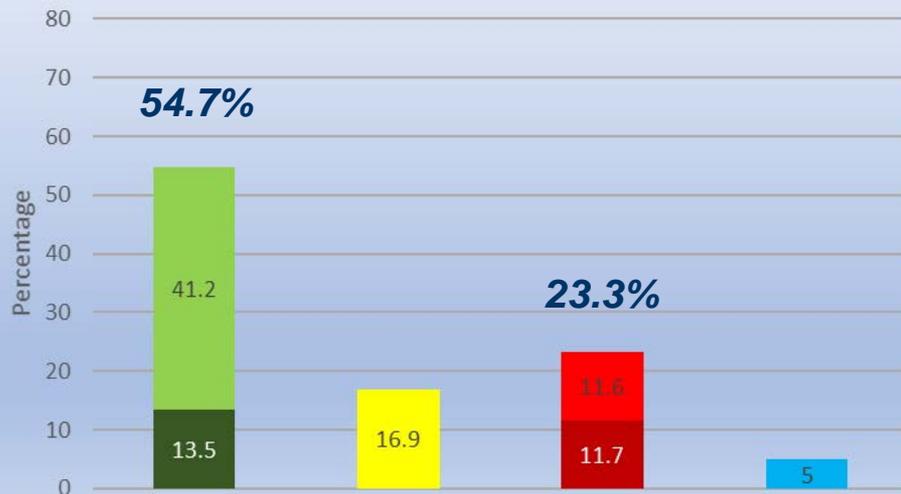

This statement provides one of the highest level of agreement in the entire survey and demonstrates the value of this service to members. There is little disagreement.

LCC Service #8 – Financial Services Church Extension Funds

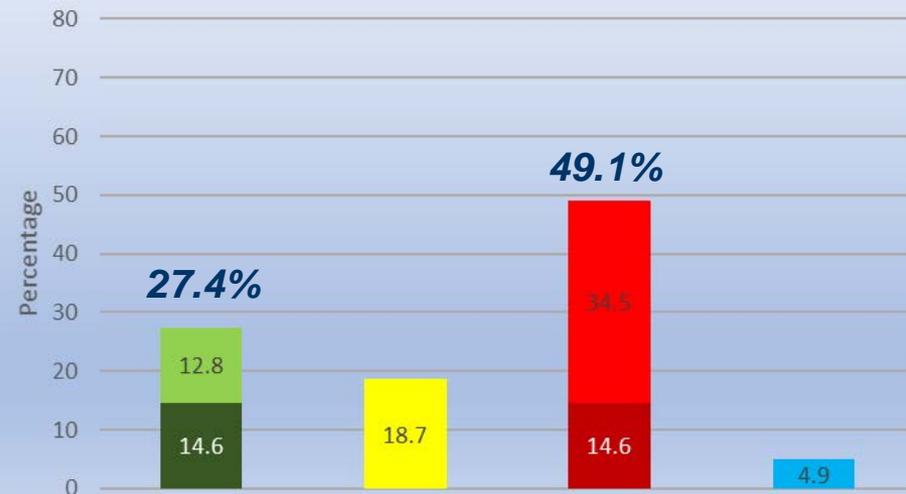

Observation

Respondents favour continuing the Church Extension Funds.

6. Church Extension Funds are still needed and should be continued.
(LCC - All Responses)

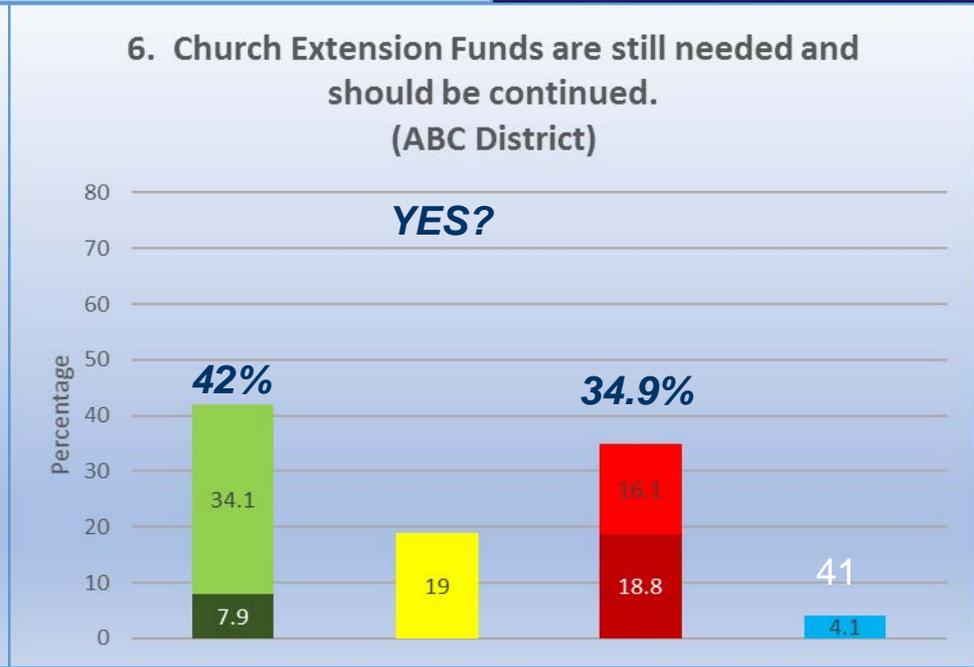

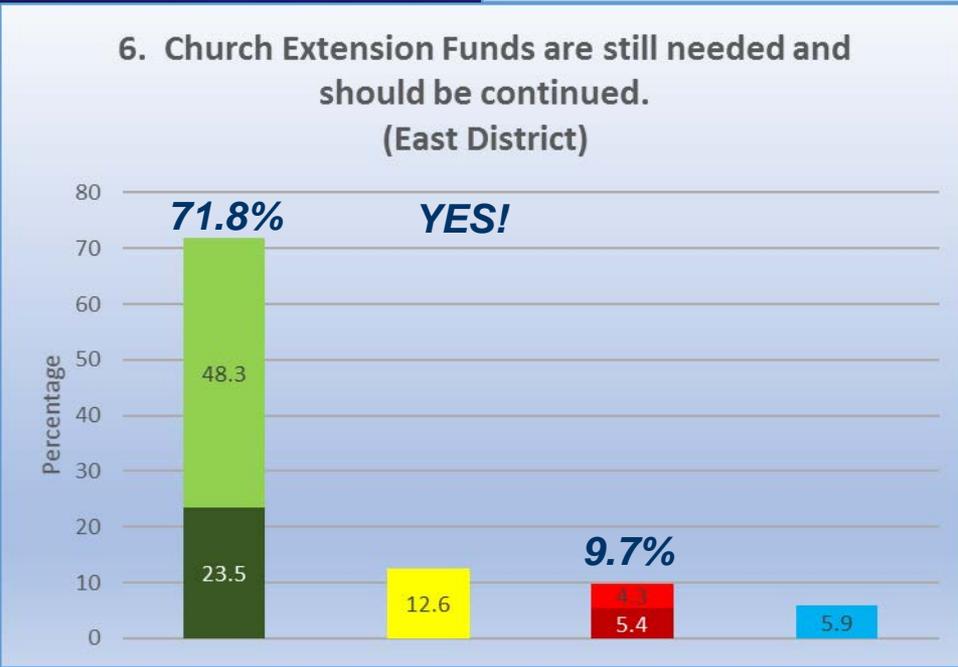

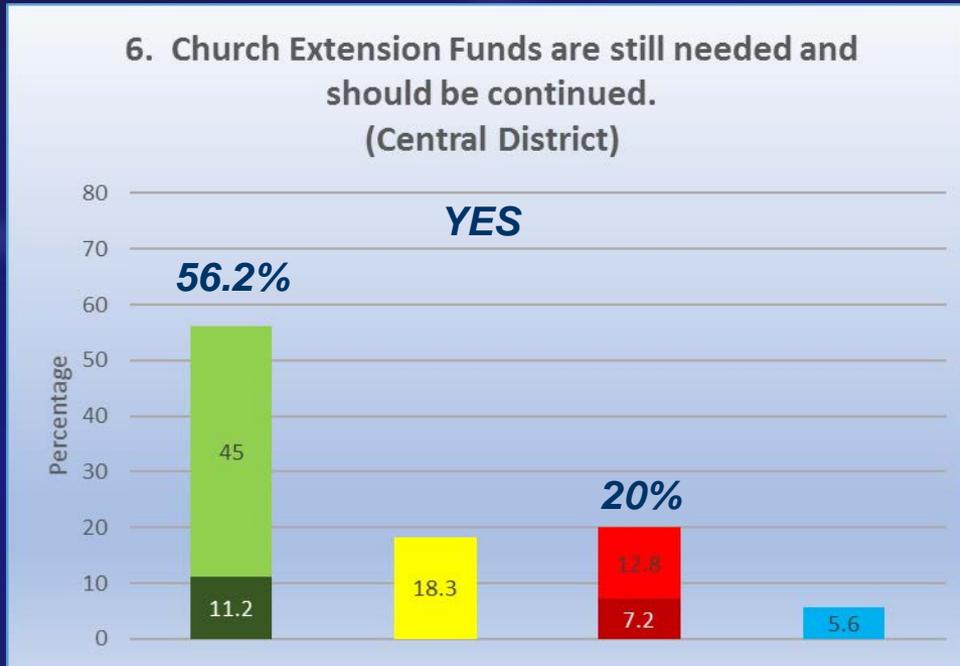

5. Church Extension Funds should be discontinued.
(LCC - All Responses)

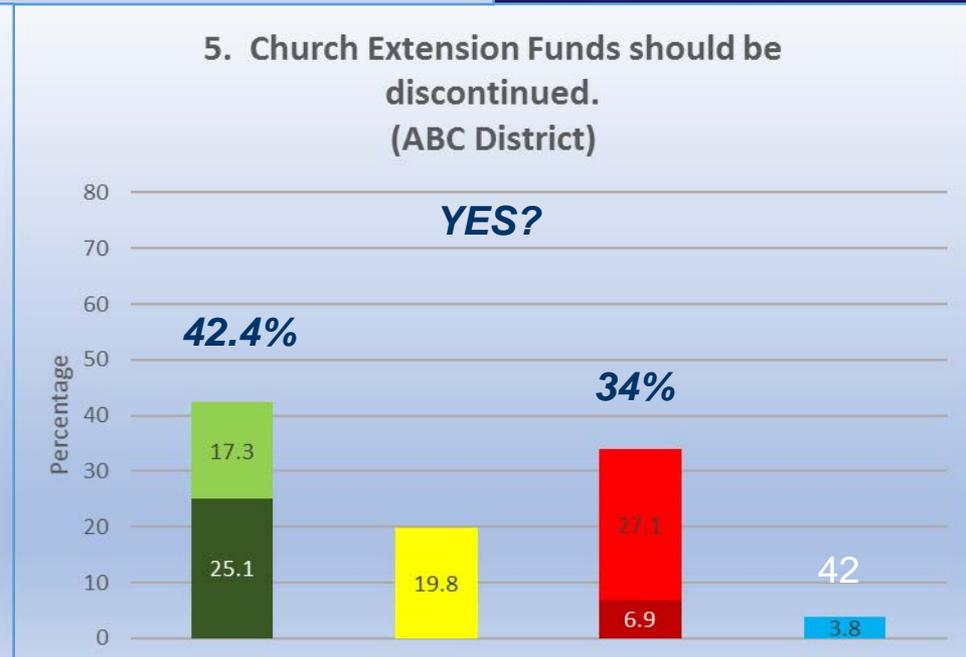

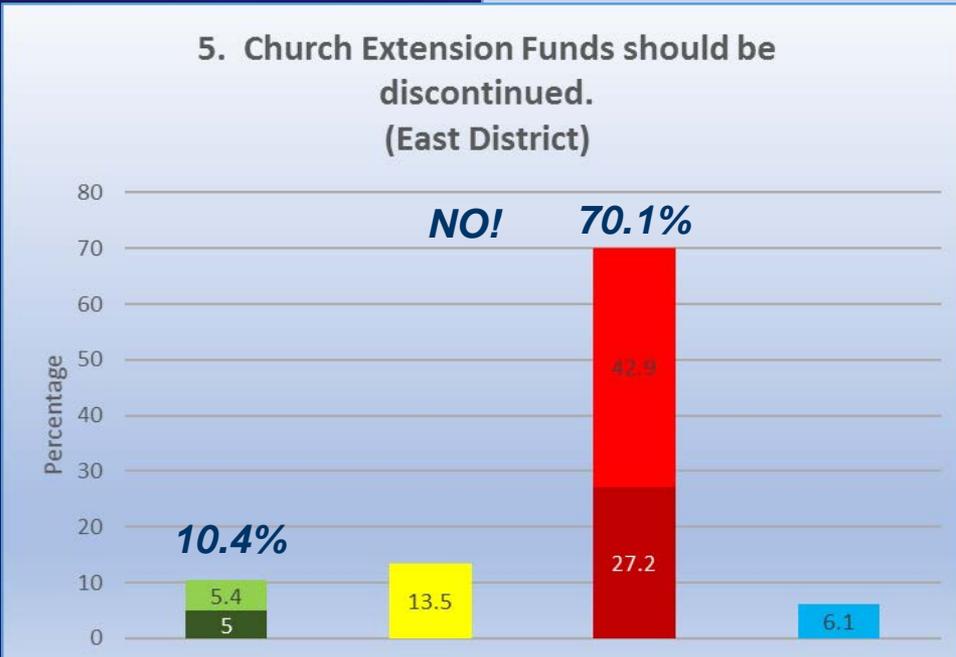

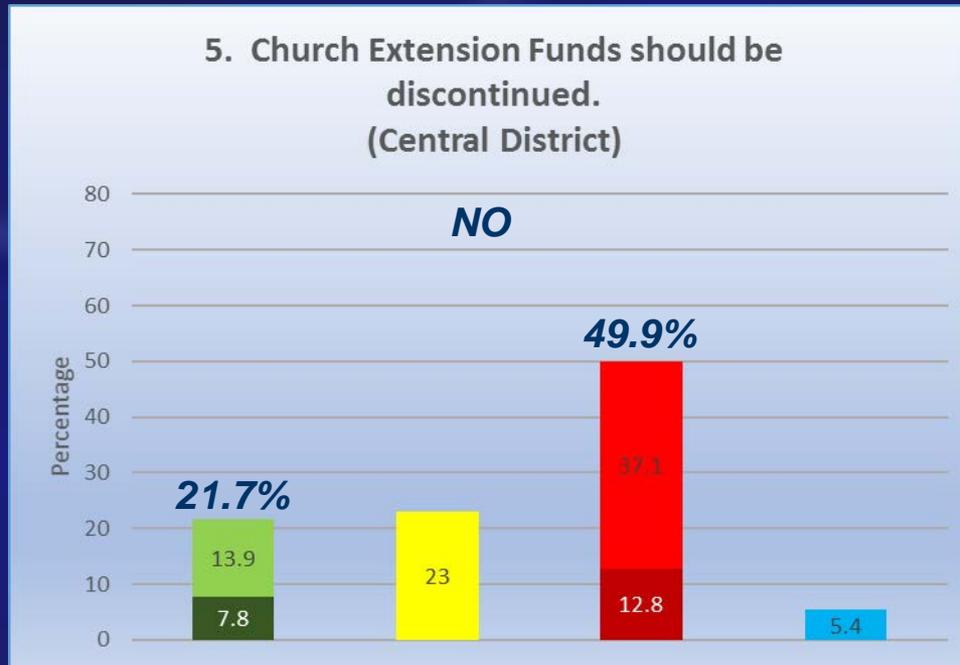

Observation

Separating these two statements by Districts reveals that the ABC District is uncertain about the future of Church Extension Funds. 40

Church Extension Funds by District – Continue?

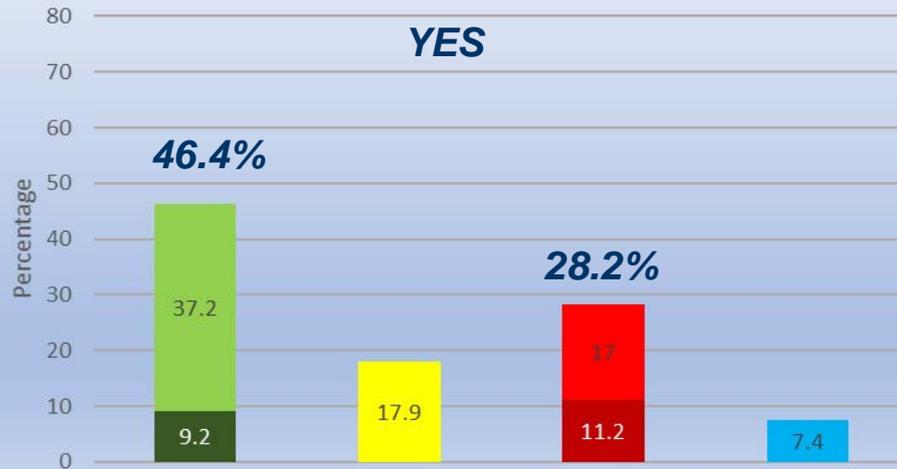

Church Extension Funds by District – Discontinue?

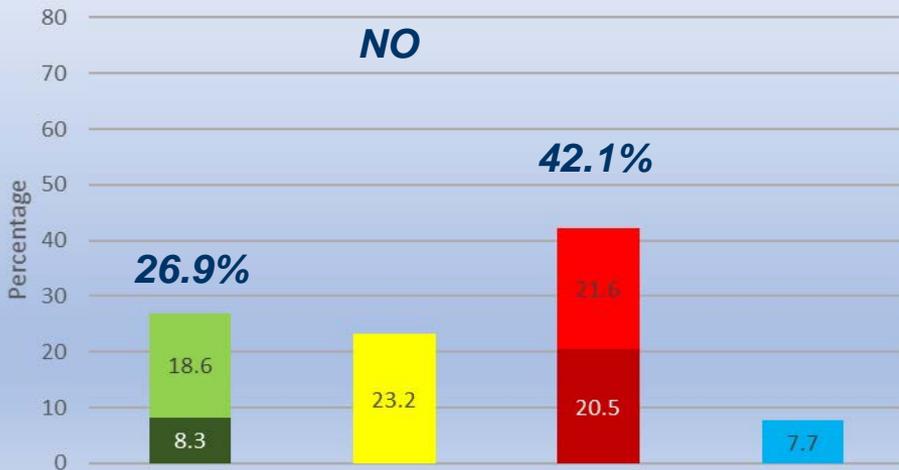

Church Extension Funds by District – Merge?

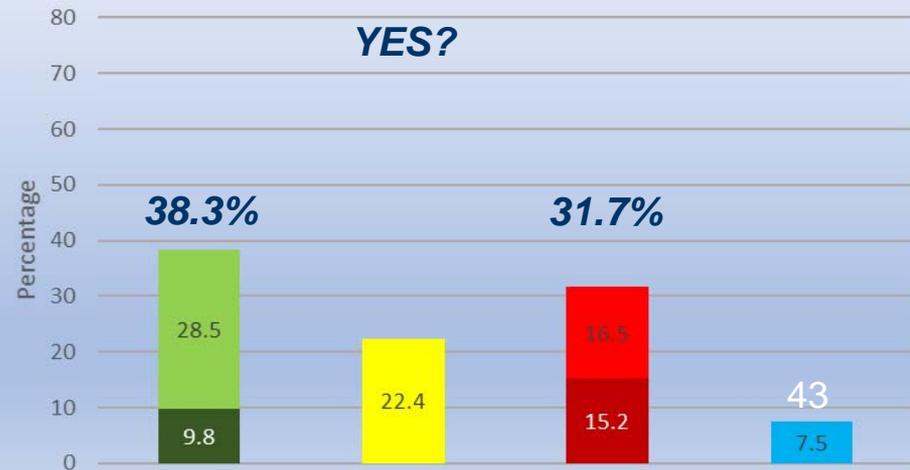

7. District Church Extension Funds should be merged into one synodical Church Extension Fund. (Central District)

7. District Church Extension Funds should be merged into one synodical Church Extension Fund. (East District)

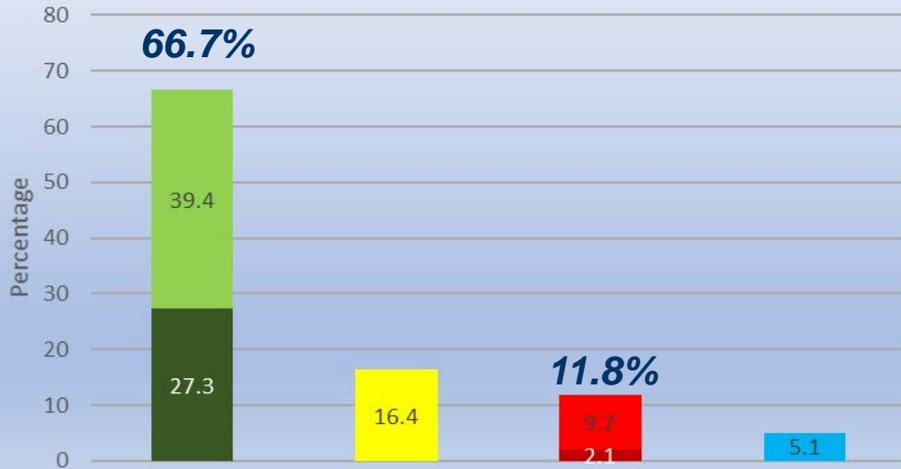

7. District Church Extension Funds should be merged into one synodical Church Extension Fund. (ABC District)

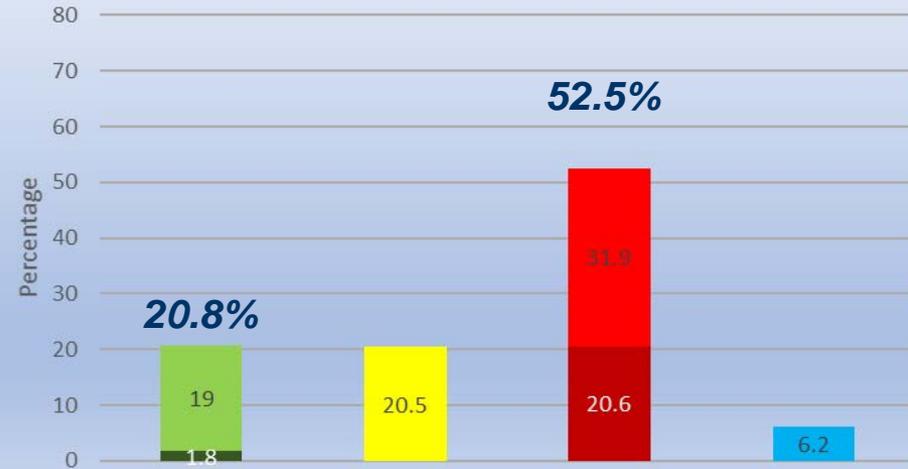

Part Two - The Restructuring Process

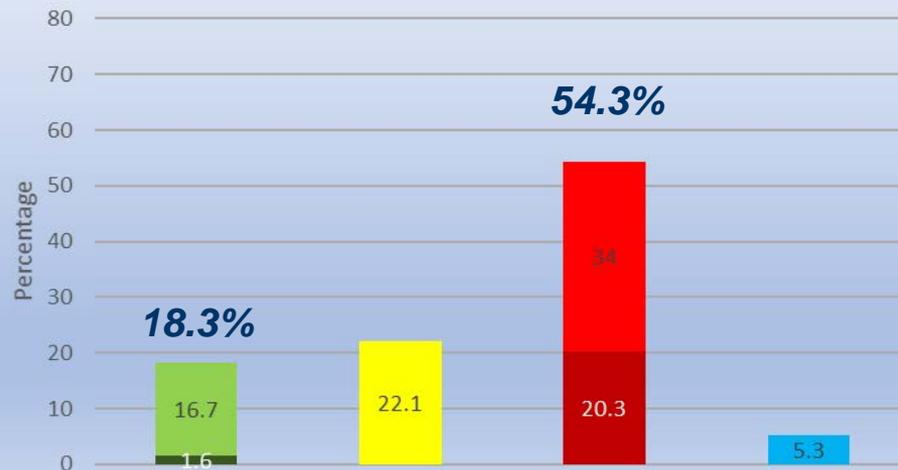

15. The current LCC structure should be open to a major overhaul.
(LCC - All Responses)

16. Changes to the current LCC structure should include only minor structural refinements.
(LCC - All Responses)

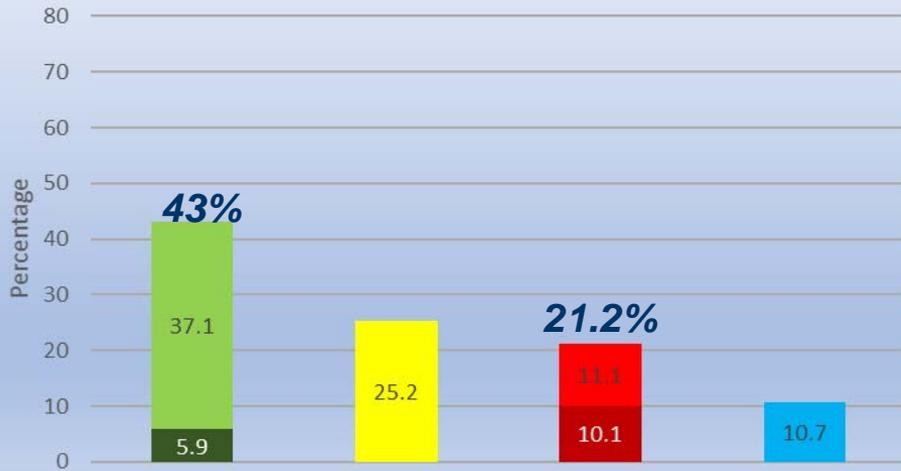

17. I am comfortable with the way things are in LCC at the synodical and district levels.
(LCC - All Responses)

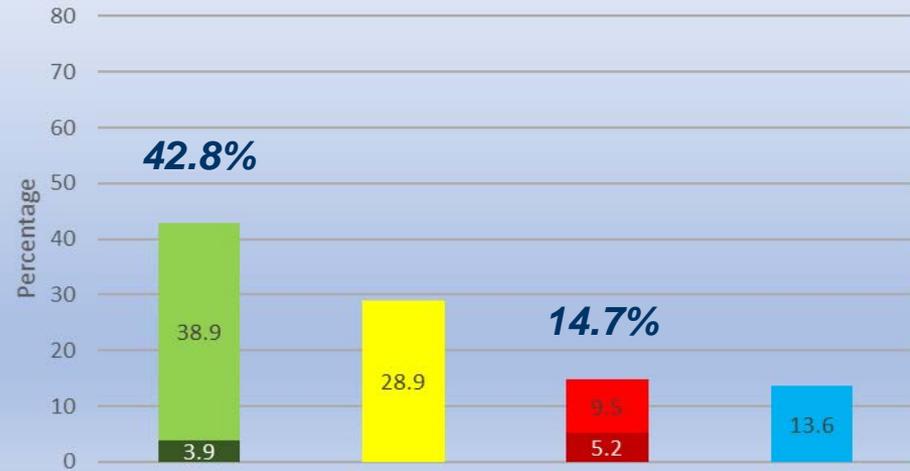

Confidence in District Boards, LCC Board, and CCMS

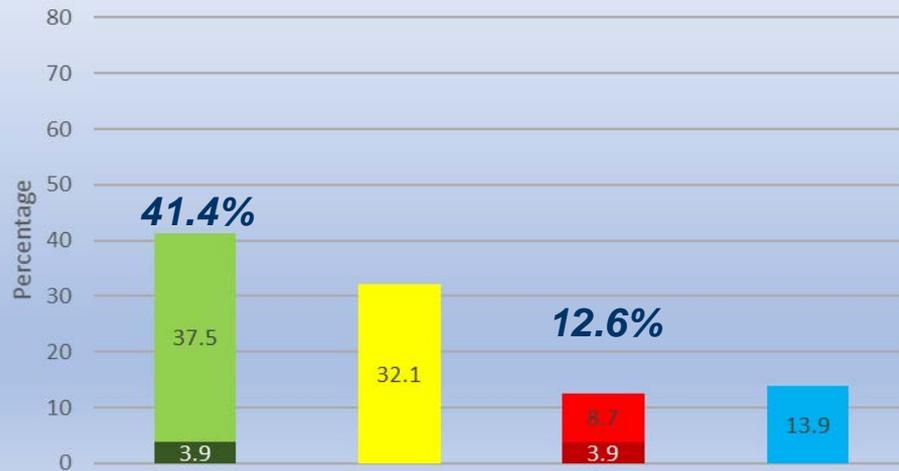

19. I have confidence in the performance of my District's current Board of Directors.
(LCC - All Responses)

21. I have confidence in the CCMS in leading the process of restructuring LCC.
(LCC - All Responses)

20. I have confidence in the performance of Synod's current Board of Directors.
(LCC - All Responses)

Observations on the Restructuring Process

Observation

There is a very high level of discomfort with the way things are at the level of Districts and Synod.

Observation

There is no significant variance in this discomfort by District, category of church worker, or any other demographic category.

Observation

There is a very clear expectation among members for “significant” overhaul of the relationship between the Districts and the Synod, not “only minor structural refinements”.

Observation

The confidence in District and Synod Boards and the CCMS is mildly positive. There is no significant difference in the level of confidence that all members express among these three entities.

Observation

There is significant indecision about whether or not members should have more or less confidence.

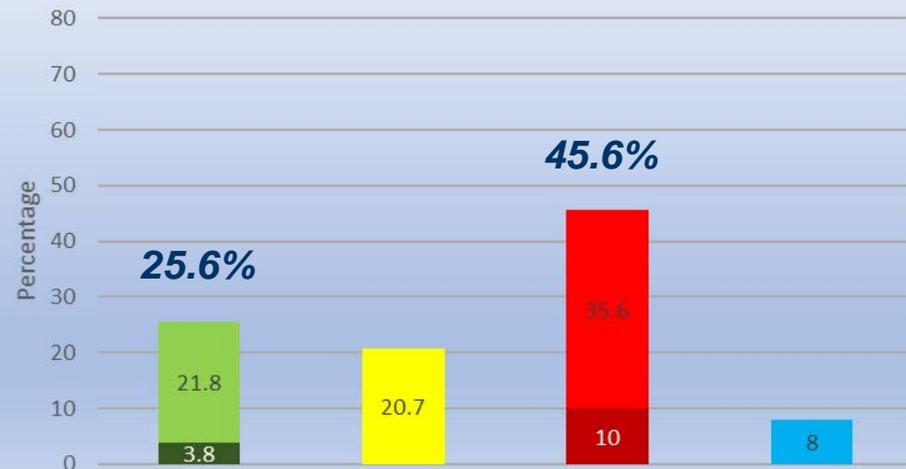

Part Three

Restructuring the Relationship of Congregations, Pastors and Deacons in Convention

22. The number of pastoral delegates and the number of lay delegates to synodical Conventions should be equal. (LCC - All)

23. The number of pastoral delegates and the number of lay delegates to synodical Conventions may be unequal. (LCC - All)

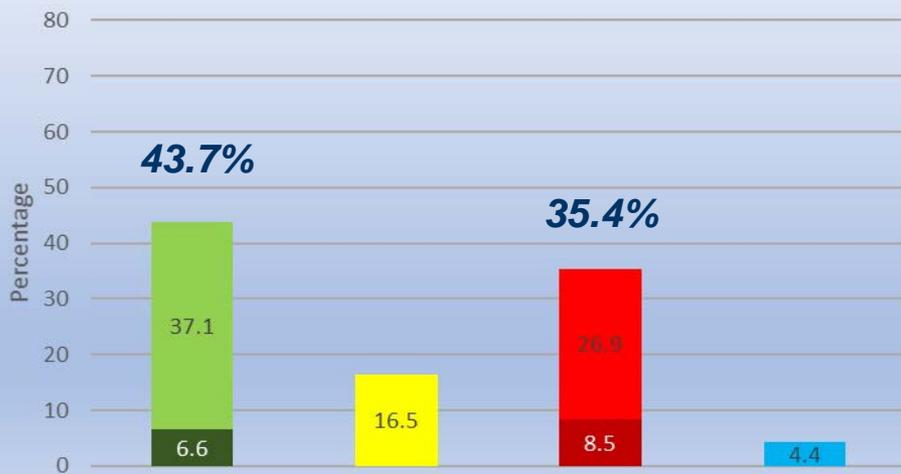

Observation

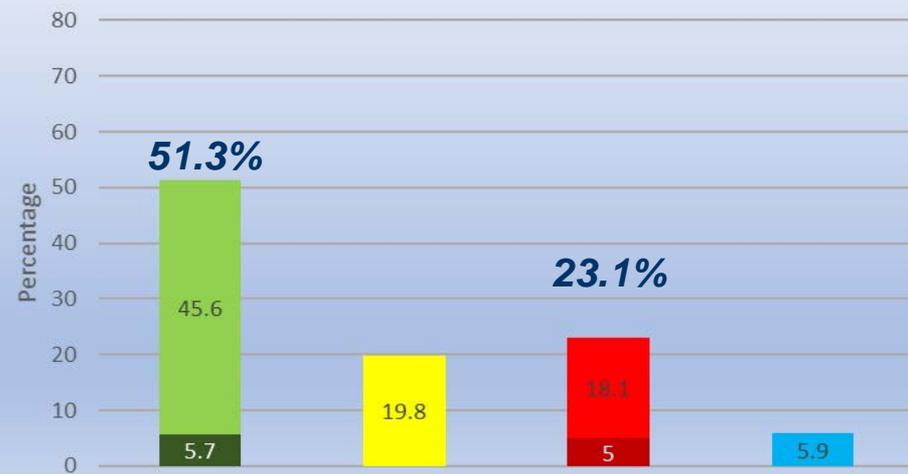

There is significant support for maintaining the practice of having equal numbers of pastoral and lay delegates.

Right of Pastors not Serving Congregations and Deacons to Vote at Synodical Conventions

24. Pastors not serving congregations, e.g. retired pastors, chaplains, etc. should have a vote at synodical Conventions. (LCC - All)

25. Deacons should have a vote at synodical Conventions. (LCC - All Responses)

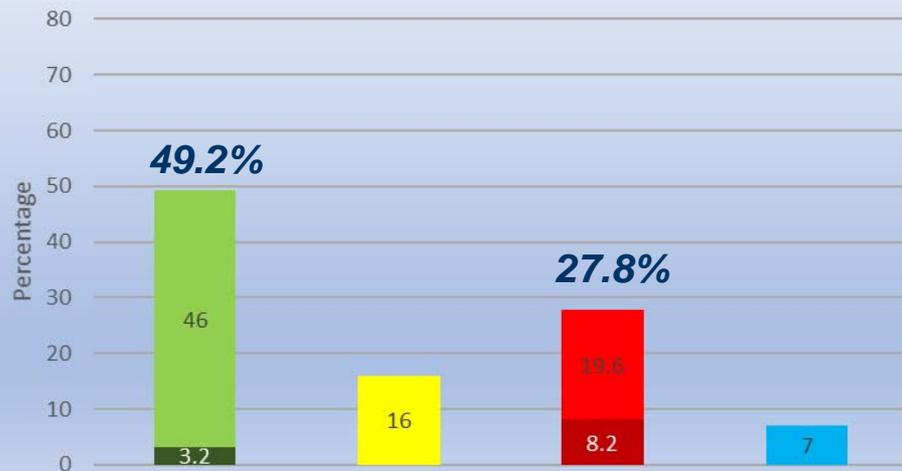

Observation

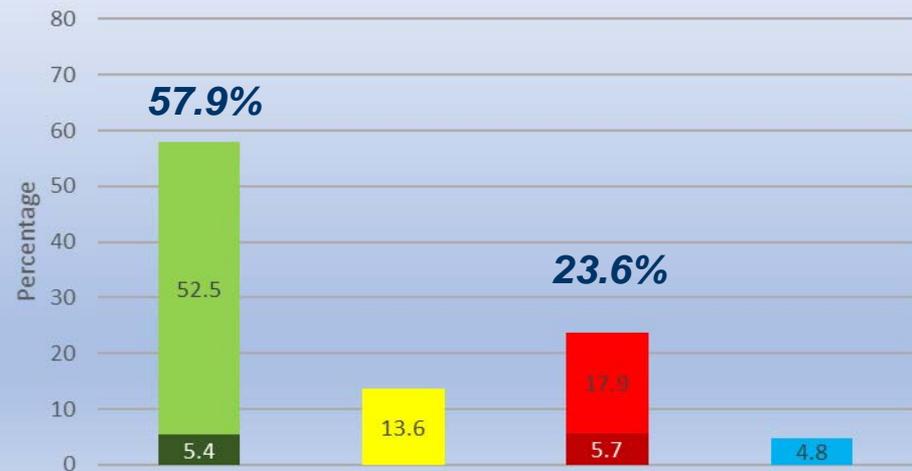

There is moderate to strong support for extending the right to vote at synodical Conventions to pastors not serving congregations and to deacons.

Advisory Pastors and Deacons Representing Congregations as Voting Lay Delegates

26. An advisory Pastor should be able to represent a congregation or a circuit as a voting lay delegate. (LCC - All Responses)

27. A Deacon should be able to represent a congregation or a circuit as a voting lay delegate. (LCC - All Responses)

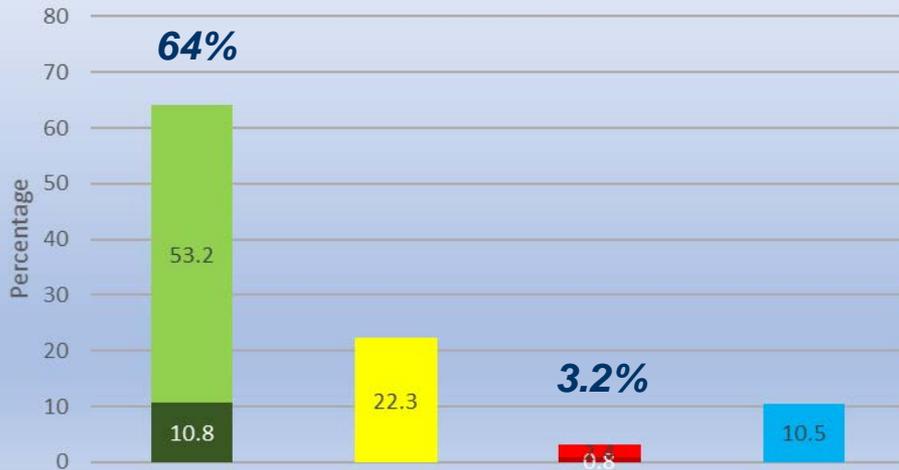

Observation

There is moderate to strong support for advisory Pastors and Deacons to represent congregations as lay delegates.

Circuit Restructuring and Circuit Forums

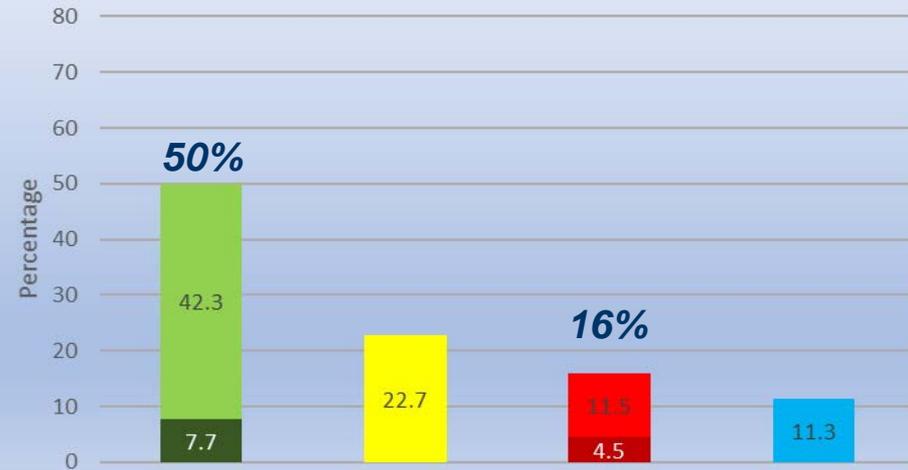

28. Some circuits may need to be restructured geographically

(LCC - All Responses)

29. Circuit forums are a meaningful part of LCC.

(LCC - All Responses)

Observation

Members agree that there may be some need for the geographical restructuring of circuits with almost no disagreement.

Observation

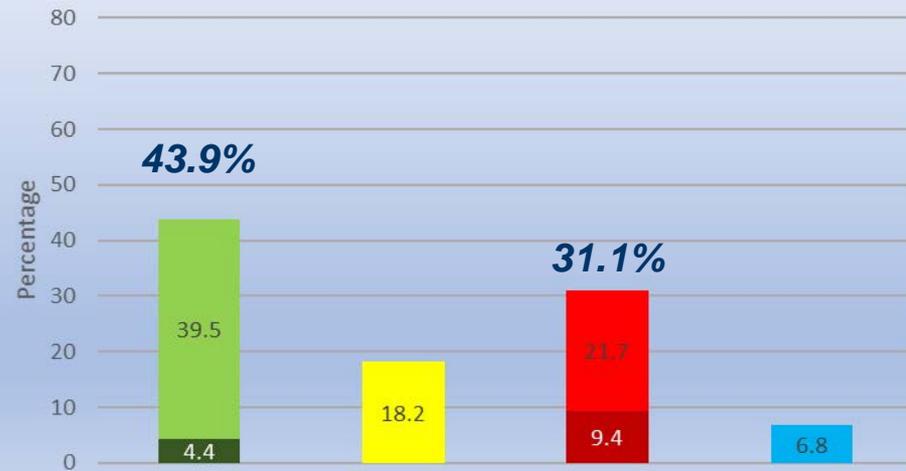

There is moderate to strong support for circuit forums. More attention to those who are undecided may increase support.

Electing Delegates to Conventions

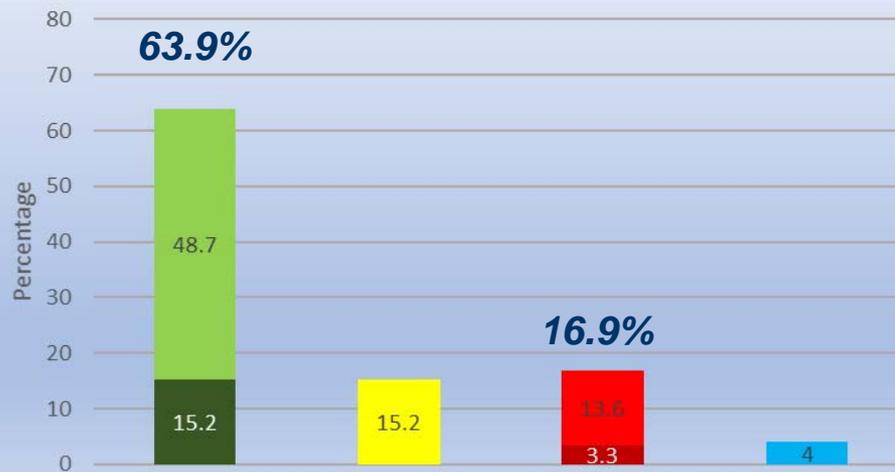

30. If the District Conventions are discontinued, each congregation/parish should send a pastoral and lay delegate to synodical Conventions. (All)

31. If the District Conventions are discontinued, delegates to synodical Conventions should be elected as they are now. (All Responses)

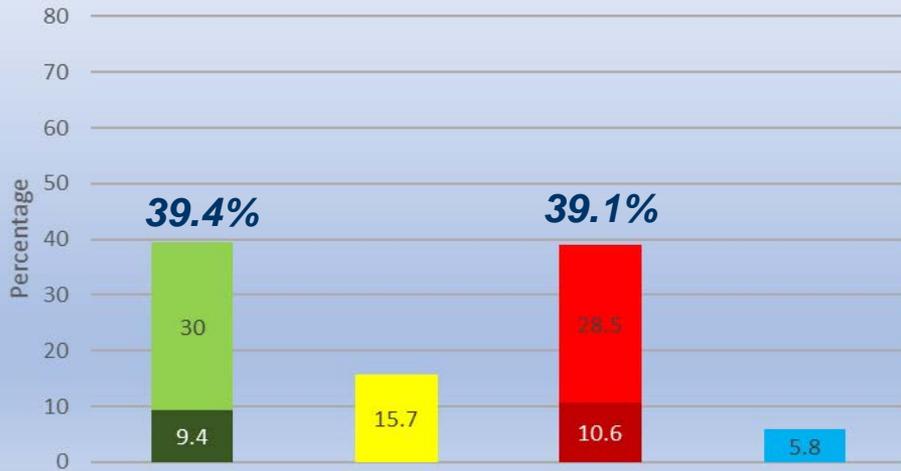

32. Whether or not Districts continue, each congregation should be represented individually at synodical Conventions. (All Responses)

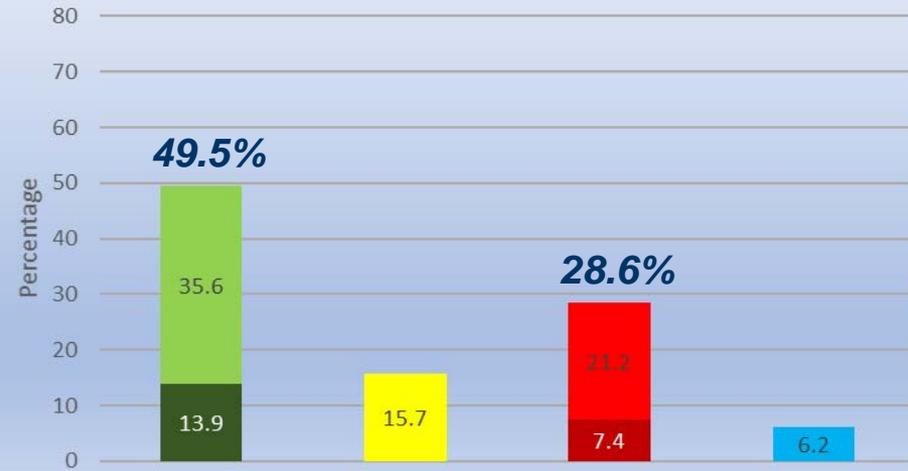

Part Four

Restructuring Synodical Leadership

33. The President of the Synod should serve as both Chief Executive Officer and Ecclesiastical Supervisor, as is now the case. (All Responses)

34. The synodical Convention should divide the President's duties into two positions: President and CEO. (All Responses)

Observation

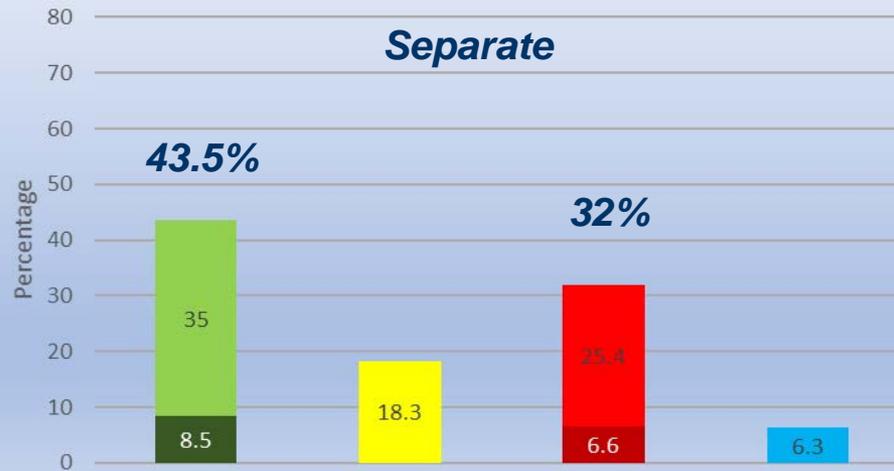

Pastors serving congregations tend to agree that the two positions be separated. Pastors not serving congregations tend to agree that the position continue to be combined.

Observation

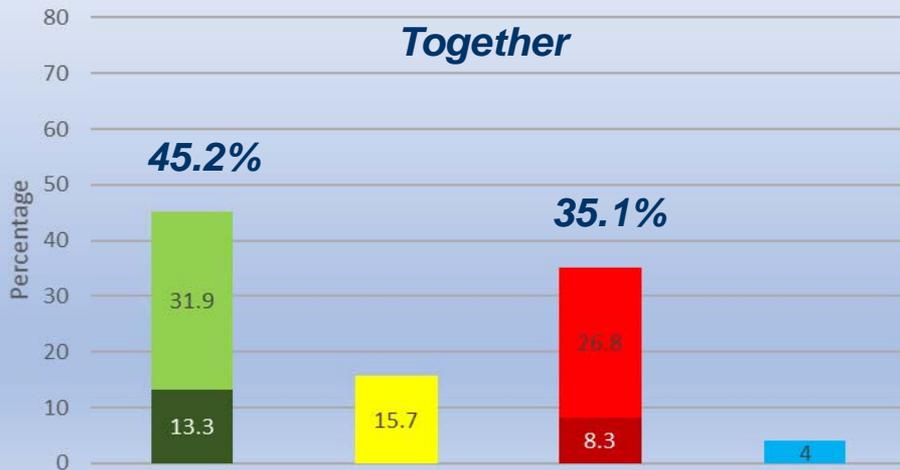

There is variance by District. The East District favours a combination of the two offices. The ABC District favours separation as does the Central District but less strongly. (See the next slide.)

President/CEO – Combined or Separate?

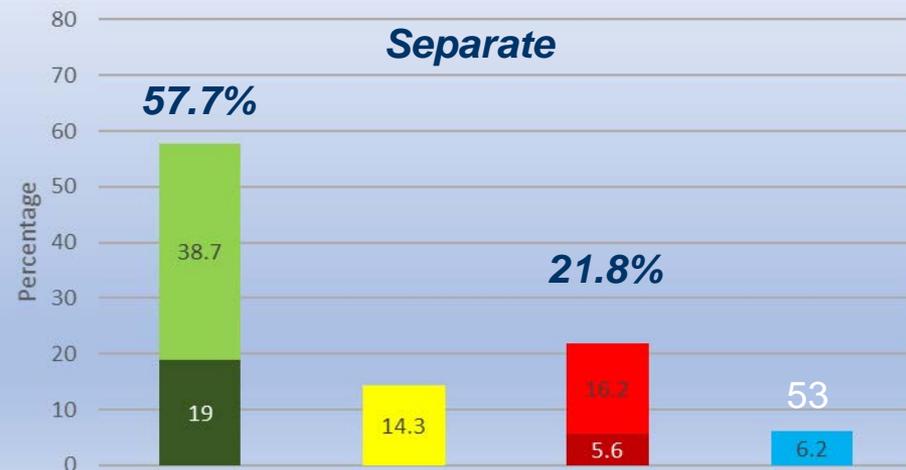

34. The synodical Convention should divide the President's duties into two positions: President and CEO. (Central District)

33. The President of the Synod should serve as both Chief Executive Officer and Ecclesiastical Supervisor, as is now the case. (East District)

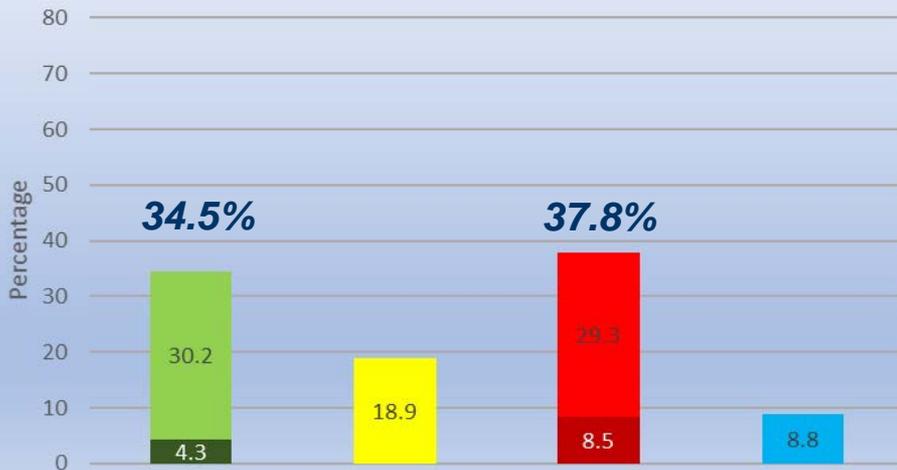

34. The synodical Convention should divide the President's duties into two positions: President and CEO. (ABC District)

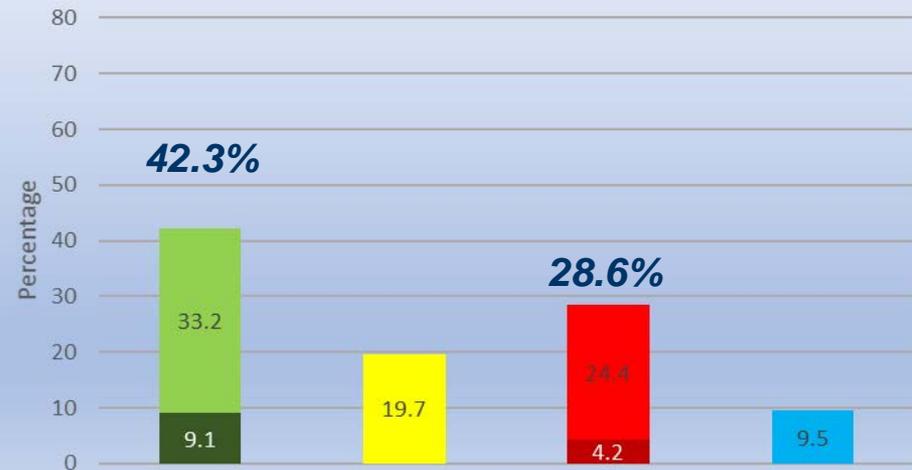

LCC Board of Directors/President Relationship

35. The synodical President should be a voting member of the Board of Directors.
(All Responses)

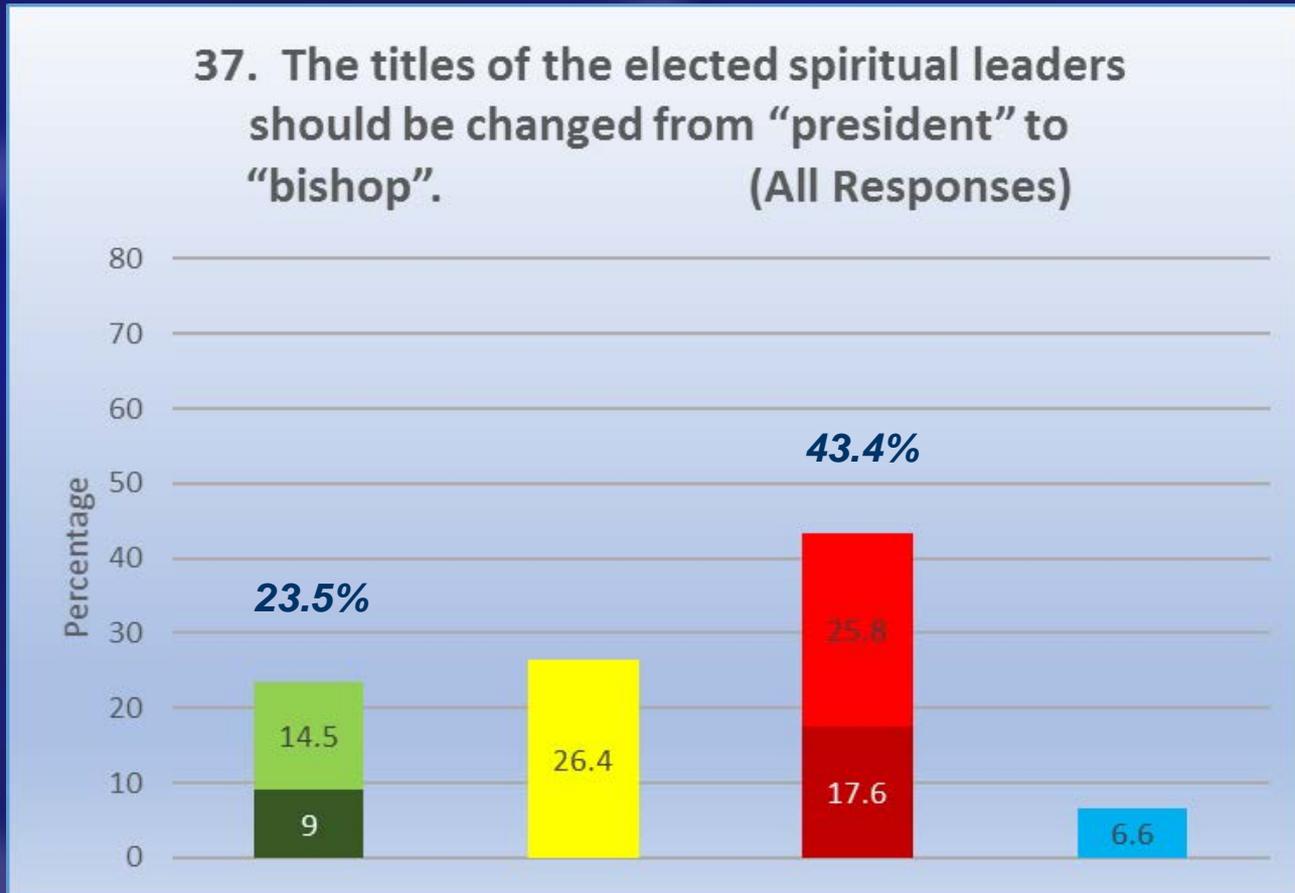

36. The synodical President should not be a voting member of the Board of Directors to which he is accountable between Conventions.

Observation

Members prefer that the President should not be a voting member of the Board of Directors by a narrow margin.

President or Bishop?

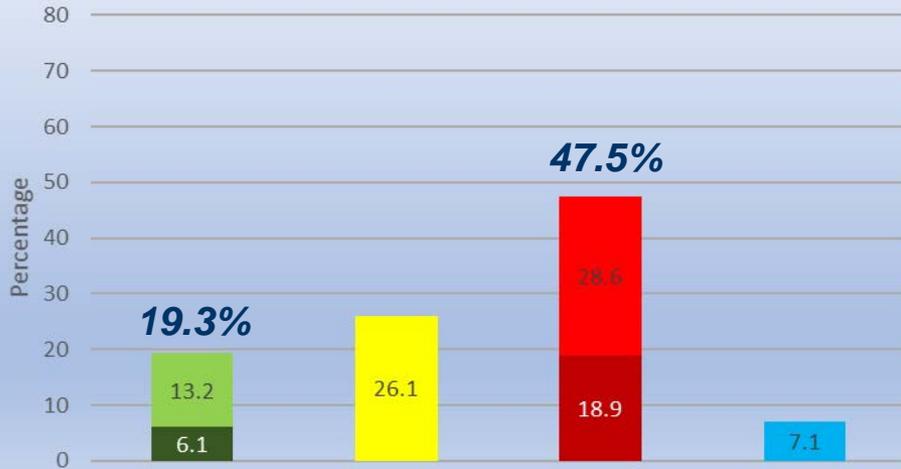

Observation

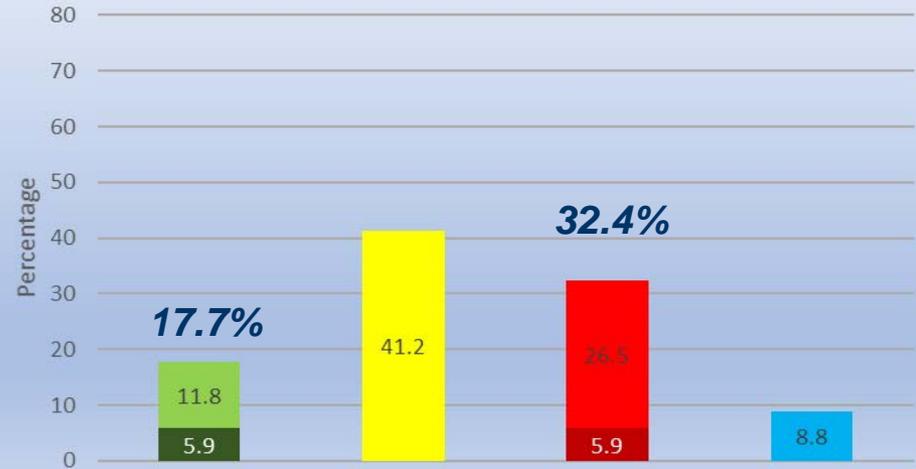

There is no significant variance between Districts with regard to the use of the title “President” or “Bishop”, but there is a significant variance by type of member. See the next slide.

President or Bishop?

37. The titles of the elected spiritual leaders should be changed from “president” to “bishop”.
(Lay Persons)

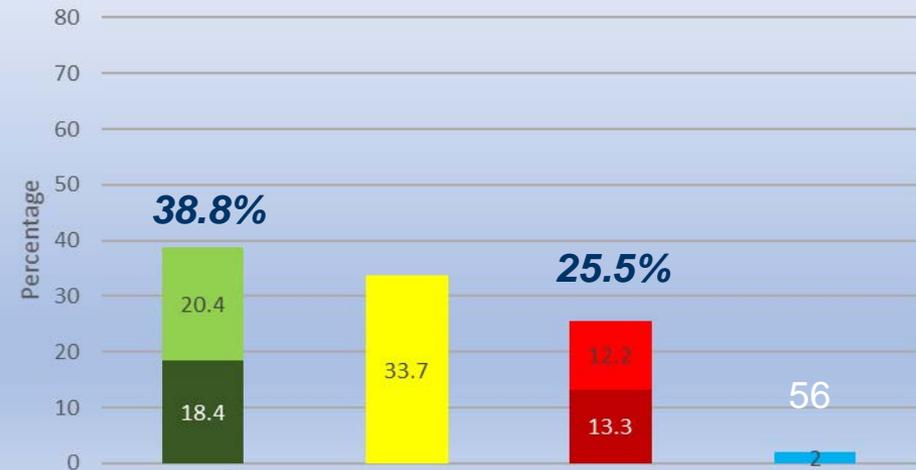

37. The titles of the elected spiritual leaders should be changed from “president” to “bishop”.
(Deacons)

37. The titles of the elected spiritual leaders should be changed from “president” to “bishop”. (Pastors Serving Congregations)

37. The titles of the elected spiritual leaders should be changed from “president” to “bishop”. (Pastors Not Serving Congregations)

President or Bishop?

Observation

*Lay persons and Deacons strongly favour the term “president.”
Both categories of Pastors strongly favour the term “bishop.”*

Observation

There is an unusually high level of “neither agree nor disagree” among lay persons, Deacons, Pastors Not Serving Congregations, suggesting a need for more information and discussion.

Observation

There is no significant variance between Districts with regard to the use of the title “President” or “Bishop”.

Change to “Bishop”?	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	No Opinion
ABC	23.4%	27.1%	42.4%	7.3%
Central	23.6%	25.0%	46.0%	5.4%
East	23.6%	26.8%	42.8%	6.7%

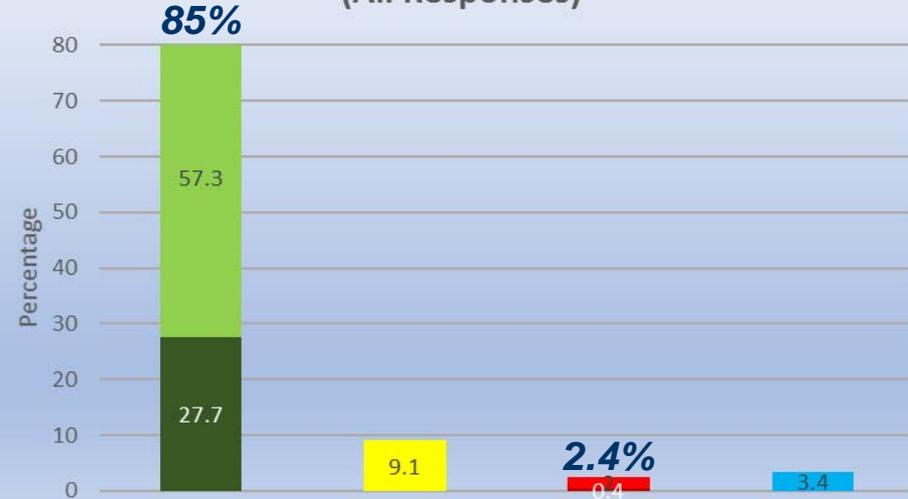

Part Five

Restructuring the Training of Pastors and Deacons, including the number and location of Seminaries.

41. There is value in providing for the continuing education for our Pastors.
(All Responses)

42. There is value in providing for the continuing education for our Deacons.
(All Responses)

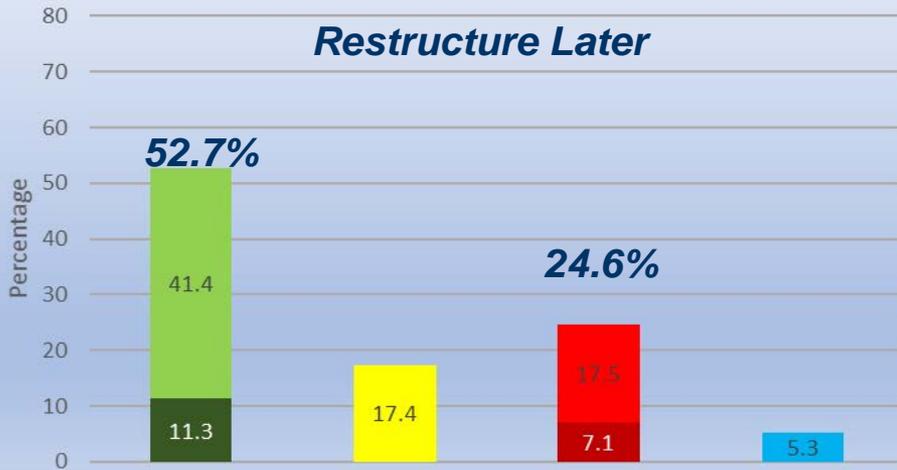

Observation

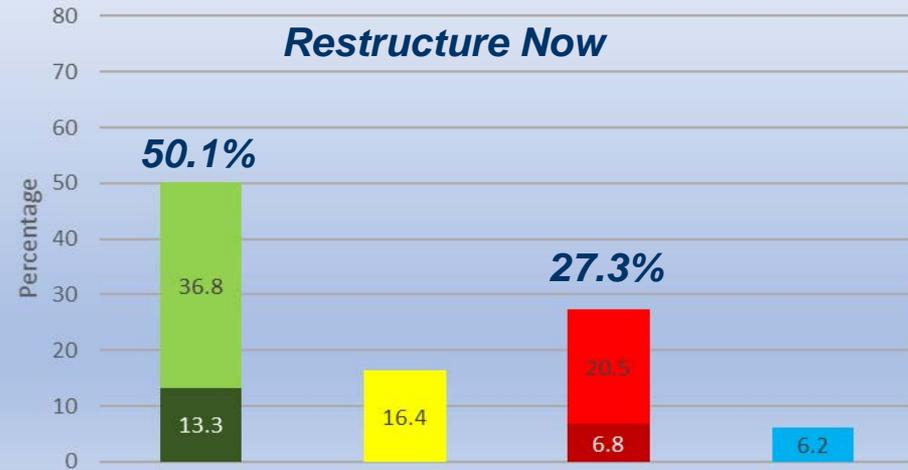

In the two highest levels of agreement in the entire survey, the members confirm the high value they place on continuing education for all church workers.

Process of Restructuring the Training of Pastors and the Seminaries

38. The process of restructuring the training of pastors and the seminaries, should continue after the process of restructuring LCC. (All)

39. The process of restructuring the training of pastors and the seminaries, should continue at the same time as restructuring LCC. (All)

Observation

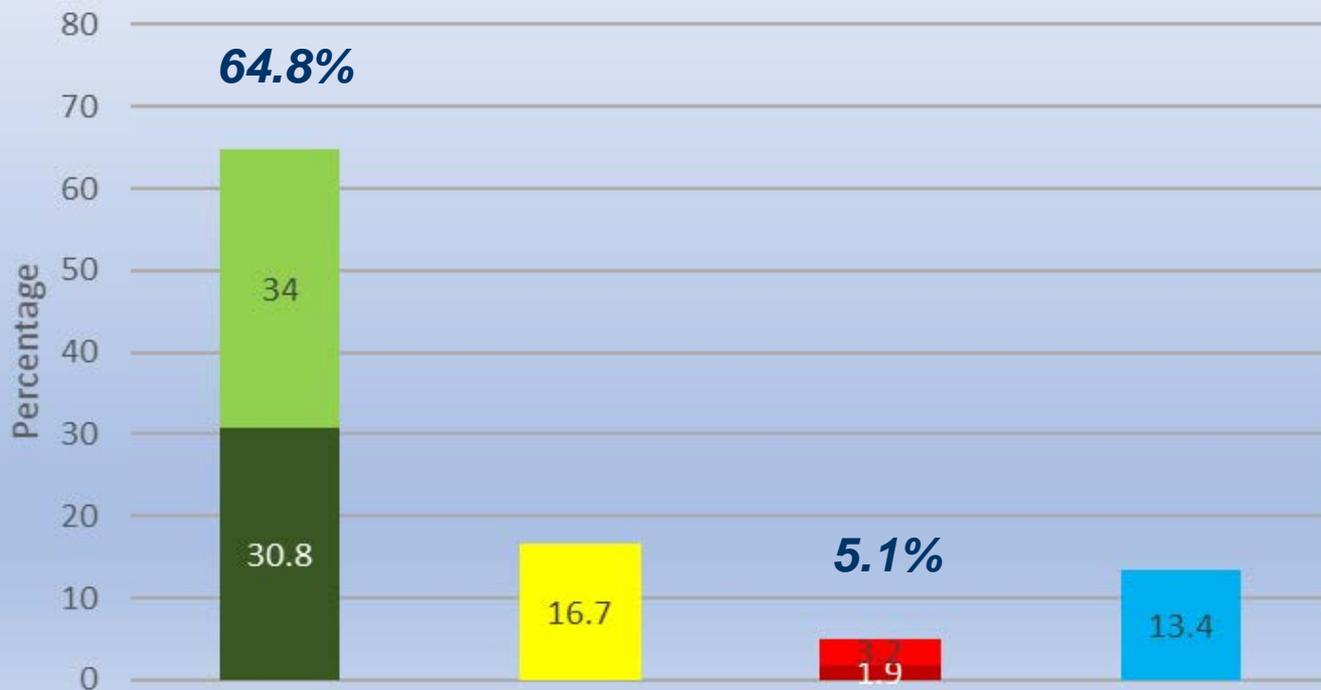

These two options for the timing of dealing with seminary training of pastors mirror one another more perfectly than any other two statements in the survey. The LCC Board of Directors and the seminaries have made significant progress in resolving this issue.

Observation

The comments indicate some variance in understanding what action the Convention has already directed in this matter.

Relationship Between LCC and Concordia University of Edmonton

43. The relationship between LCC and Concordia University of Edmonton requires clarification. (All Responses)

Relationship Between LCC and Concordia University of Edmonton Observations

Observation

By having almost as many “strongly agree” responses as “agree” responses this survey statement reflects the exceptionally strong desire for clarity in this relationship.

Observation

Some of the comments indicate that the recent Canadian Lutheran article has already provided clarification for people.

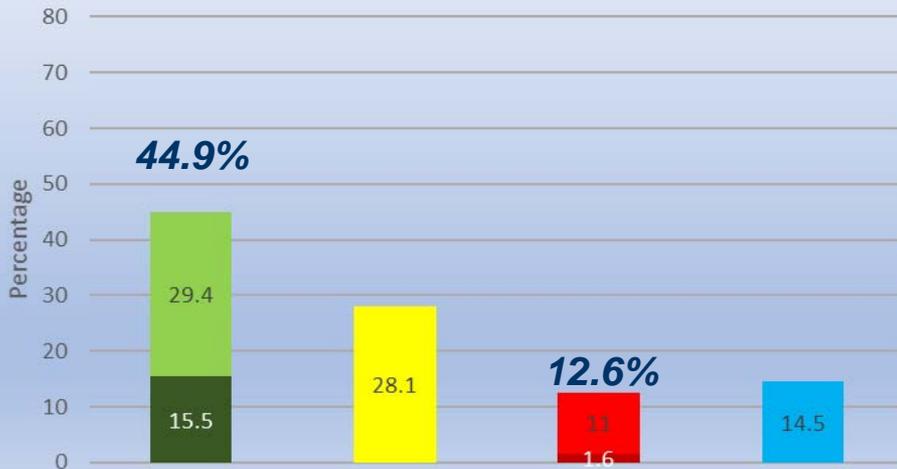

Observation

In this decisive response, those who agree exceed those who disagree by more than twelve times, while nearly one-third are undecided or have no opinion. The comments indicate much confusion, emphasizing the need for clarification.

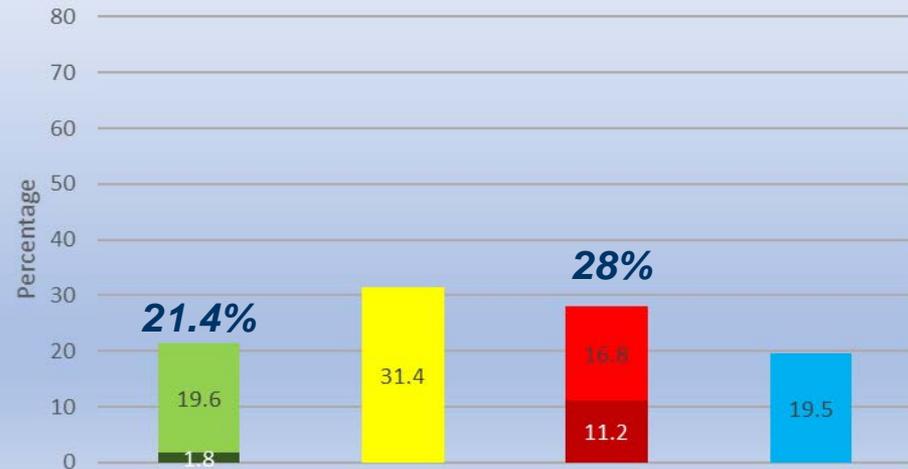

Part Six

Restructuring the Relationship between the Synod and Districts

47. LCC at the district and synodical level is over-governed.
(All Responses)

50. The process for the accountability of our District's Board of Directors to the Synod is adequate.
(LCC - All Responses)

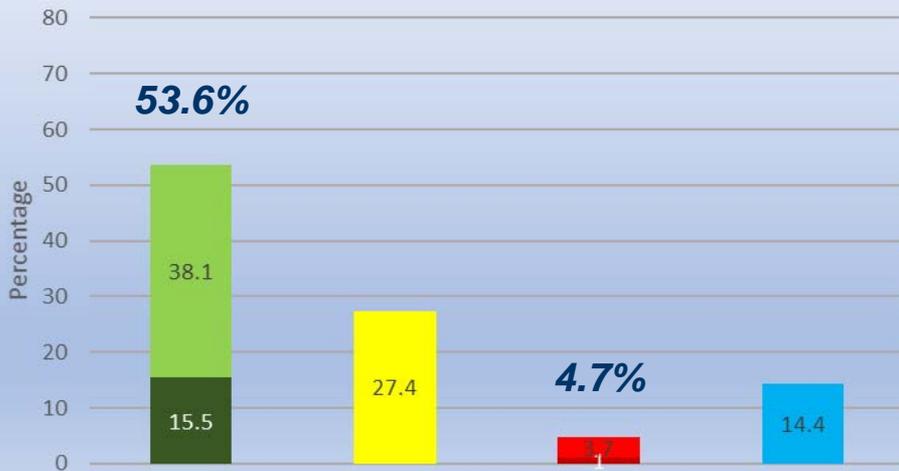

Observation

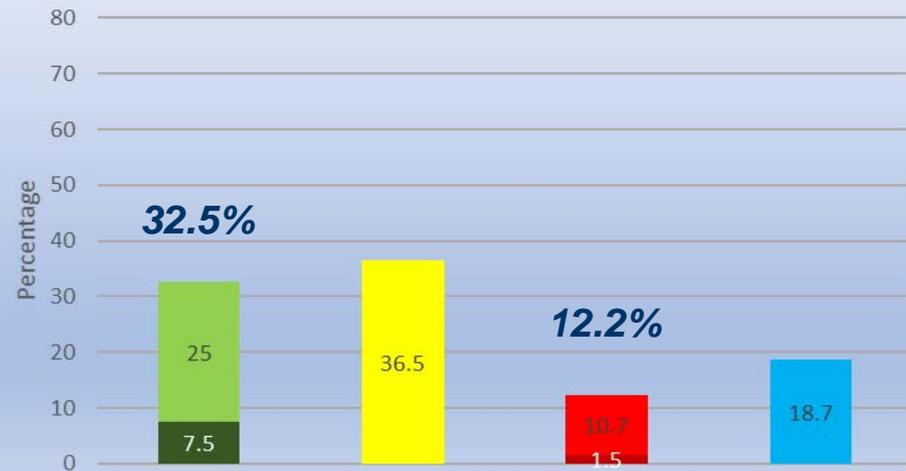

It seems ironic that members would perceive that the Districts and the Synod are over-governed and yet that accountability between the two is weak. Again here, we note that many in the Synod lack information about the Synod/District relationship.

Restructuring the Relationship between the Synod and Districts

45. Some changes in the relationship of the Synod and the Districts are needed.
(All Responses)

46. There is overlap in the services that the Synod and the Districts provide our congregation.
(All Responses)

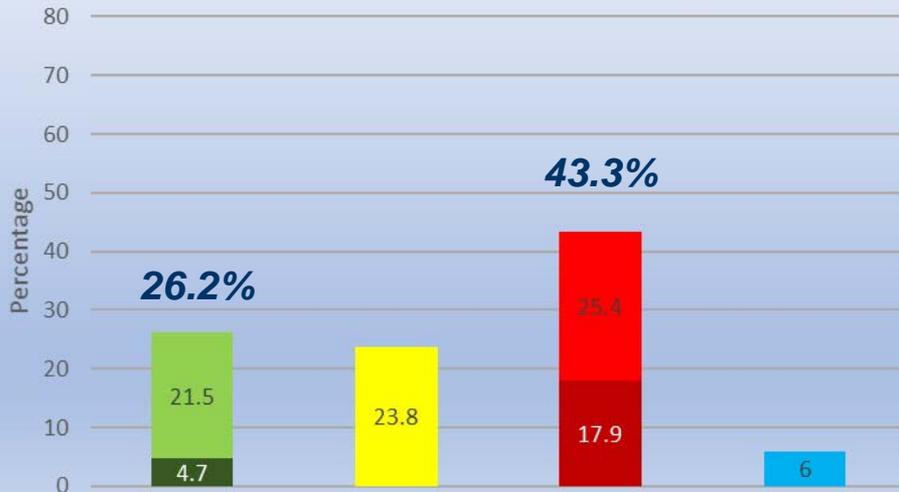

Observation

While there is general agreement that changes are needed and that there is overlap in the services provided by Districts and the Synod, this section regarding the potential overlap has nearly the highest level of “neither” and “no opinion” expressed in the entire survey.

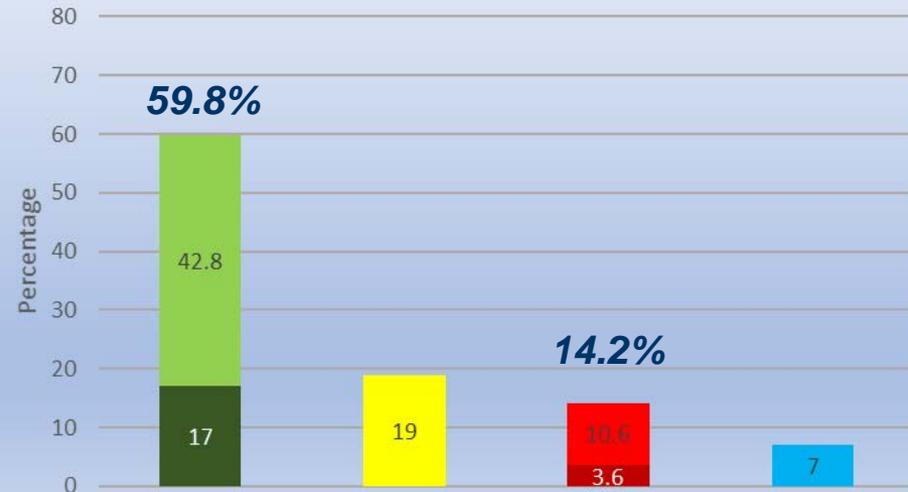

Part Six

Restructuring the Relationship between the Synod and Districts

48. LCC should continue to function as three federated Districts as it does now.
(All Responses)

49. LCC should function as one national administrative structure with regional ministry areas and spiritual leaders living in each area.

Observation

The practice of functioning as three federated Districts is rejected by the members in the survey by a ratio of 3 to 2. The ratio in favour of one administrative unit is 4 to 1.

Observation

74% of Pastors serving congregations prefer one administrative structure with spiritual leaders living in each regional area. Only 11% favour three federated Districts.

Restructuring the Relationship between the Synod and Districts

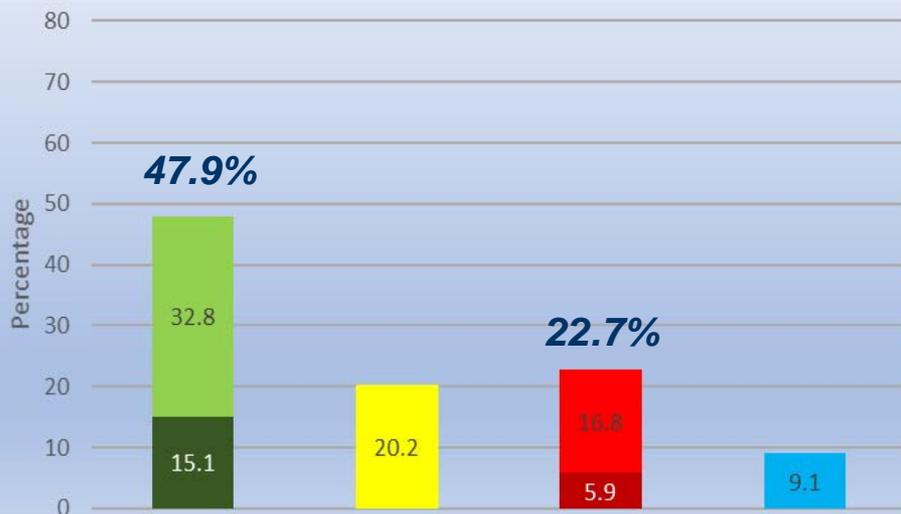

Observation

There is a strong preference for dissolving Districts as legally incorporated entities.

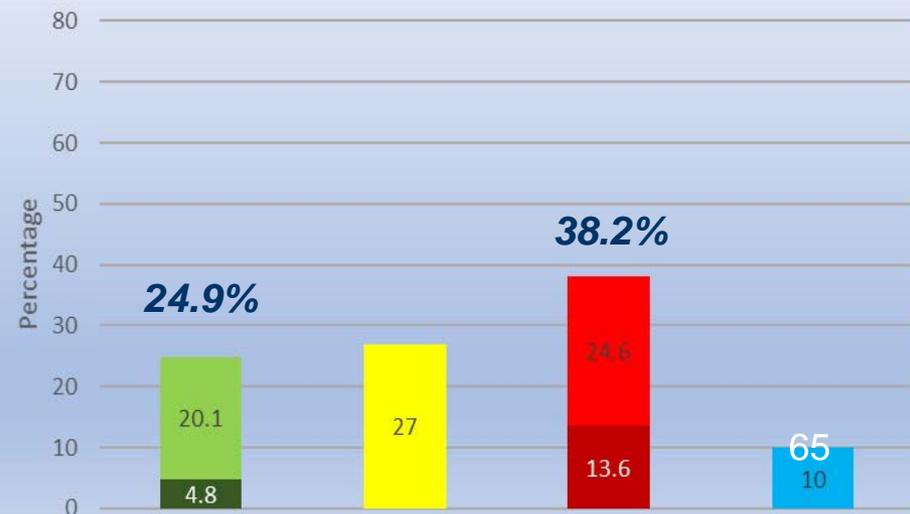

Observation

There is no significant variance by District or type of member in the two statements regarding maintaining Districts as legal entities.

51. I am comfortable with my District ceasing to be a separate legally incorporated entity.
(LCC - All Responses)

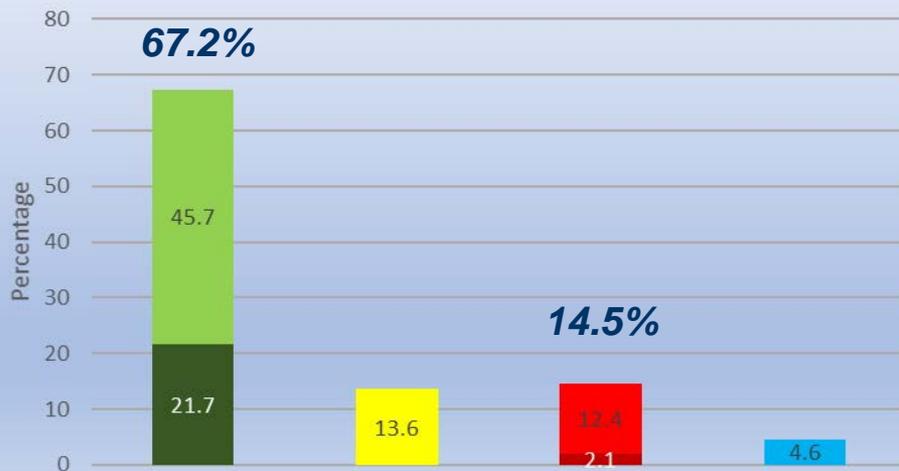

52. Our District should be maintained as a separate legally incorporated entity.
(LCC - All Responses)

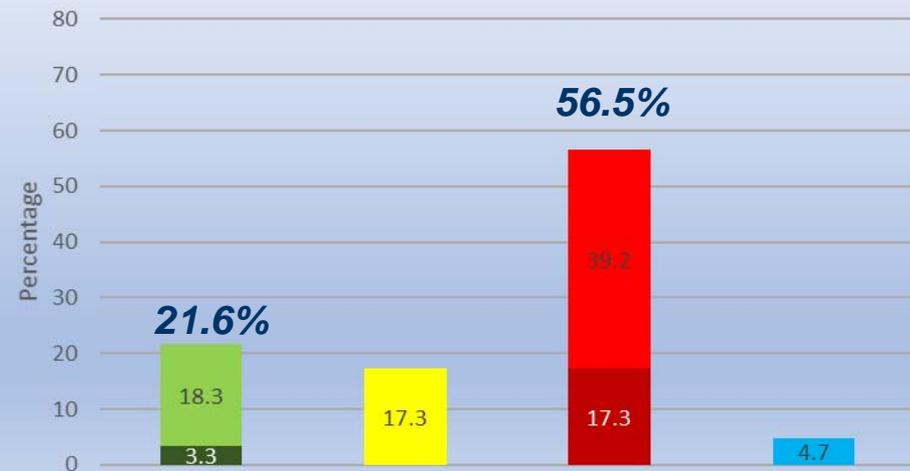

Strategic Planning – Together or Separate?

13. There should be one strategic plan for the Synod and Districts.
(LCC - All Responses)

14. The Districts and the Synod should plan separately, as they do now.
(LCC - All Responses)

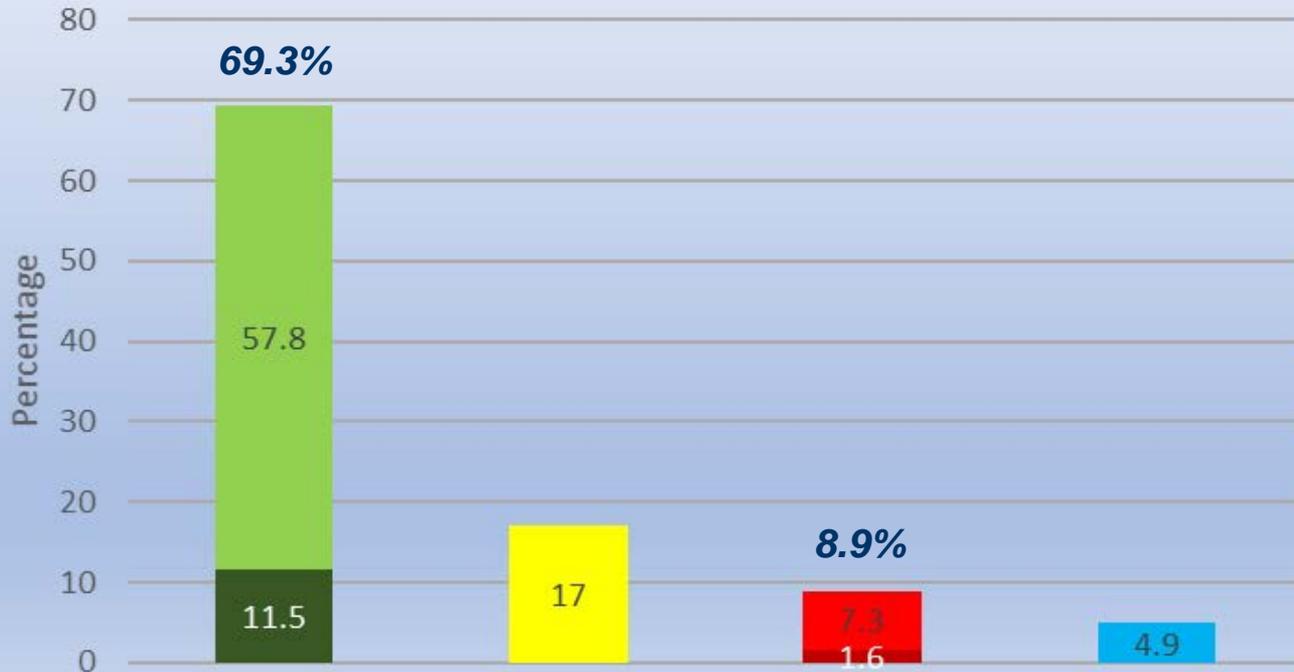

Observation

Strategic Planning is one of the most important processes of any organizational structure. There is strong expression for having one administrative structure (59.8%), one incorporated organization (47.8%), and one strategic plan (67.9%).

Relationships with Auxiliaries, LSOs, and CLWR

60. I am comfortable with thinking of the synodical family as including all the Auxiliaries and Listed Service Organizations. (LCC - All)

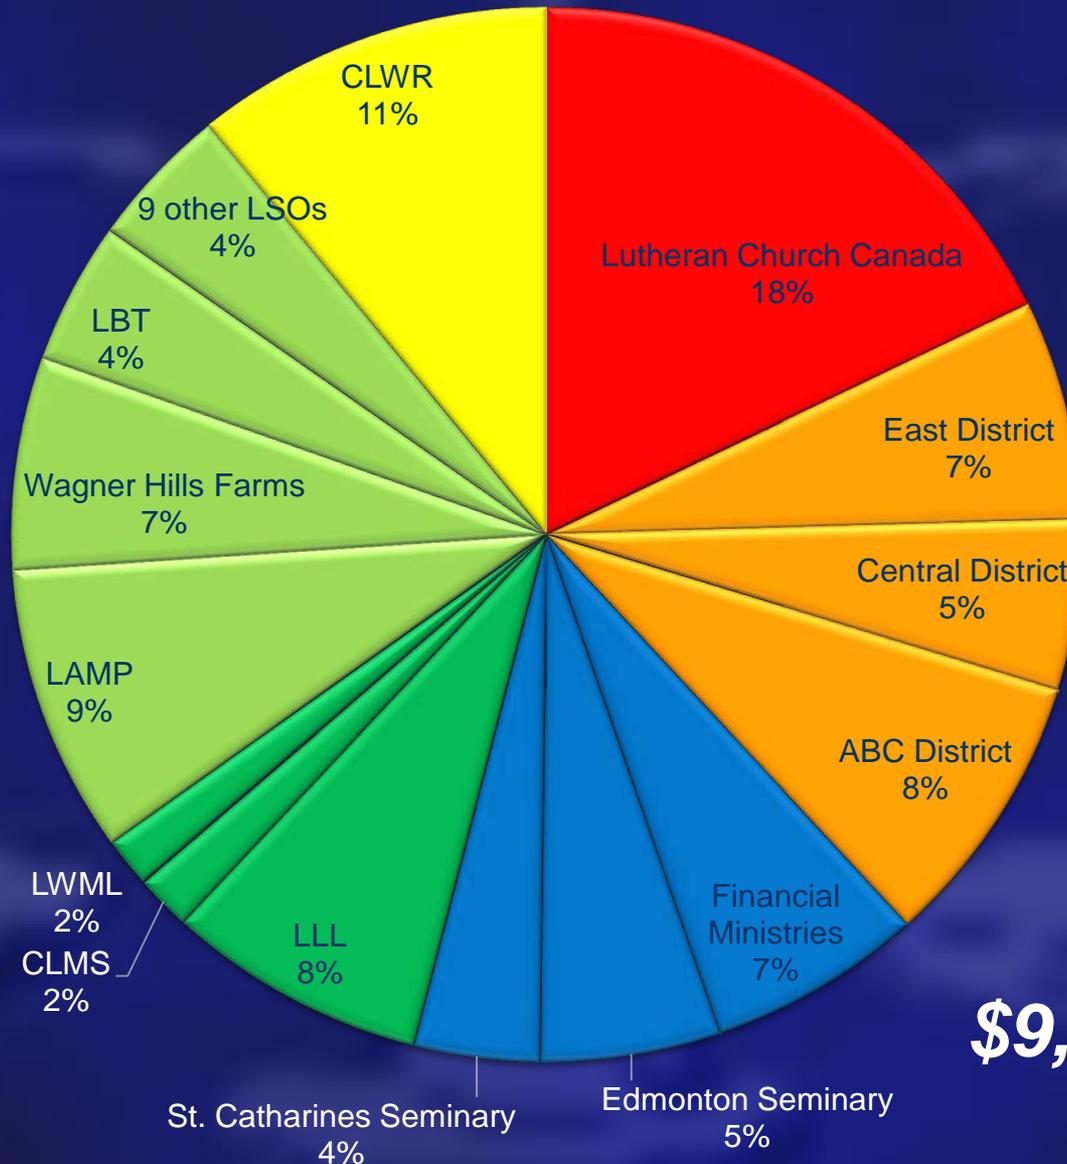

Observation

The positive response to the statements dealing with the Auxiliaries and the Listed Service Organizations are among the highest in the survey.

and practice.

Nine Insights for discussion on the survey for the LCC Discussion Groups from Easter to June 30.

Based on the survey results regarding the restructuring of LCC, which support a major overhaul of our structure, the CCMS and LCC Board of Directors are offering the following points for discussion and information as a means of receiving additional input from the members of LCC to the CCMS and Board of Directors of the Synod:

- 1. The Survey gave clear indication that the respondents favour dissolving the Districts and restructuring the Synod to function with one Administrative structure, including the possibility of restructuring the circuits/regions geographically.
- 2. The Survey indicated that the District CEFs ought to be merged into one Synodical CEF subject to legal review.

3. The Survey respondents reaffirmed our practice that each congregation of Synod may cast two votes at a Convention (currently at District Conventions). The two votes are to be cast as follows: one vote to be cast by ONE OF ITS ROSTERED CHURCH-WORKERS, and ONE TO BE CAST BY A LAY PERSON. If the Districts are dissolved as indicated above, then the majority of Survey respondents were in favour of having every congregation in LCC be represented in this manner at subsequent National Conventions.

4. The Survey showed that a majority of the respondents preferred having the Synodical Presidency divided into two separate positions: “Spiritual Leader” and “Administrator”.

5. The CCMS with the support of the Board of Directors of LCC would like to have a discussion across Canada by groups to explore the options for the title for the “Spiritual Leader”. Note: A large majority of lay people preferred “President” and a large majority of the clergy preferred “Bishop”.

6. Although restructuring the training of deacons was shown to be a high priority for Survey respondents, it must be noted that the Board of Directors of LCC are currently involved in extensive discussions, consultations, and decision making regarding that restructuring and so any helpful ideas will be passed on directly to them. Any restructuring in this area will come about as a result of the Board of Directors action.

7. The question of the Seminaries was answered at the 2011 Synodical Convention where the direction was given to the Board of Directors by the Convention to implement a Memorandum of Understanding between the two Seminaries which would facilitate more cooperation and financial savings. This has been done, is in effect, and has resulted in financial savings, significant growth in the number of young men entering the Seminaries and an improved common curriculum between the Seminaries. Attached are the MOU and the 2014 Convention Resolution regarding the Seminaries.

8. The Survey indicated that respondents wanted a clarification of the relationship between the Lutheran Church-Canada and Concordia University of Edmonton. That clarification is currently being prepared by the Board of Directors and will be made available to the church at large in the near future.

9. The relationship between Lutheran Church-Canada and Canadian Lutheran World Relief is also being clarified and established by the Board of Directors of LCC at this time. Once the shape of this relationship is firmed up, the Board will communicate that relationship to the whole church.

The CCMS invites you to attend, arrange, or request a discussion group in your congregation or area. Please ask your pastor or circuit counsellor for the date and location of a discussion in your area or for assistance in arranging a discussion group that you can attend. At the end of June the CCMS will make recommendations based on the survey and these Canada-wide discussions.

14. Details of the implementation of any activity resulting from this Memorandum of Understanding and Agreement shall be negotiated between the Seminaries as such specific cases may arise and will be outlined in Supplementary Agreements between the parties from time to time.
